DRY IN HILL TRIAL ORDERED TO DECIDE WHAT IS INTOXICATING

AN WHO TOLD OF KILLING WOMAN WITH AUTO HUNTED

Death of Thomas A. Cooper Ordered After Anonymous Letter Gives Clue
in Death Mystery.

An anonymous letter and the fact of a red-painted Ford coupe, a front fender twisted about, in a shed behind 2606
S. Broadway, prompted a Corporal today to vote a homicide verdict against Thomas A.
Cooper, 35 years old of 213 S. Grand street, as the driver of the automobile which struck and fatally injured Mrs. Edith Tinsberg, 47, of 14 South Broadway, at Broadway and Marion street, Oct. 30.
General order for Cooper's arrest had been issued before the investigation, a police investigation yesterday in which it was found that Cooper vanished from home the day after the accident was identified.

Black felt hat, which fell to ground when the driver of the auto glanced back, was identified by Cooper's essential wife as his property, and police were told he borrowed it from a few hours after the accident, announcing he had run a woman and would leave her. They were told, too, that the man was in the car at the time of the accident, returning from a drinking bout at a houseboat at the foot of Marion street.
An anonymous letter came in yesterday morning, a few days after Mrs. Tinsberg died of injuries. It merely advised the police to "talk to" Cooper's wife, Mrs. Edith Cooper, at 1421
Broadway. Mrs. Cooper said her husband Oct. 14, but left town because he had been drinking. She said she was positive he was her husband's.

Says Suspect Stole Hat.
Further investigation led the police to Mrs. Amanda Mogg, 601
S. Broadway, who testified at inquest that she was at the house of Frank Glass at South Broadway on the early morning of Oct. 31, when Cooper was in his automobile, told of houseboat party and the accident, and invited everyone to drink from a bottle he had.
Glass's son, William Glass, and Cobb of 509 Spruce street testified that Cooper came to their home after the accident, and on the night there and left after drinking from Glass's bottle.
In fact, that it was not incumbent upon the Government to prove that they were intoxicated.
This, Woodcock argued, is provided for in section 33 of the national prohibition act.
Judge Soper, however, declined
to take Woodcock's construction of the law, and refused to so charge
the jury.
Judge Soper's charge to the jury preceded the arguments in the case, which were opened by Arthur
W. Machen, for the defense.
Case Given to Jury.
Machen told the jury it was not
John Philip Hill who was on trial,
"but the last vestige of American liberty." Woodcock objected and Judge Soper told Machen he could not make an anti-prohibition speech
in court.
District Attorney Woodcock's argument was brief and closed the hearing. Among other things he said a conviction would be just as satisfactory to Hill as an acquittal. Hill and his attorneys voiced a strenuous protest to this statement.
The attorneys for the defendant
asked the Court to strike the remark from the record and to impress the jury with the fact that they were not to consider it in reaching a verdict.
The jury was given the case at the opening of the afternoon session.
The Intent of Congress.
In ruling on the admissibility
of certain testimony, Judge Soper
yesterday declared his opinion that Congress intended to permit the admission of such evidence.

Court Says, Is That Produced by Beverage That Makes a Man Drunk.

ARGUMENTS END, CASE TO JURORS

Acquittal of Congressman Ordered on 2 Counts of Indictment Referring to Common Nuisance.

By the Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 12.—
Charging the jury in the trial of Congressman John Philip Hill, in the United States District Court, for alleged violation of the Volstead act, Judge Morris A. Soper, today directed the jury to ignore the definitions of intoxication as expounded by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, pure food expert, and Dr. Howard A. Kelly of Baltimore.

These witnesses testified yesterday that cider, with 2.75 per cent alcohol, and wine, with 11.64 per cent alcohol, were intoxicating. He also told the jury to find Hill not guilty on the fifth and sixth counts of the indictment, which charge him with maintaining a common nuisance at his home, 3 West Franklin street.
Not Supported by Testimony.
The testimony, the judge said,
did not bear out these charges,
and he therefore dismissed them.
Judge Soper then said:
"The only things which you have to determine in this case are questions of fact which are narrow and new. There is no question about the manufacture and possession of the cider and wine. The defendant admits these charges."
The question for you to decide is whether the articles the defendant sold were intoxicating as described in the indictment; that is, whether the articles were such that the fruit juice that he manufactured was wine and was intoxicating in fact."

Standard of Intoxication.
Judge Soper then told the jurors
they were not to accept the definition of intoxication as given yesterday by Drs. Kelly and Wiley, who said that any amount of alcohol, no matter how small, produces some degree of intoxication.
The standard of intoxication which the jury should have in mind, Judge Soper said, is that produced by a beverage which contains enough alcohol to intoxicate a normal man when drunk in such quantities as a man is able to drink.

Government's Request Denied.
When Judge Soper had completed his charge, District Attorney Woodcock asked him to instruct the jury that the burden of proof rested on Hill to prove that his fruit juices were not intoxicating.
In fact, that it was not incumbent upon the Government to prove that they were intoxicating.
This, Woodcock argued, is provided for in section 33 of the national prohibition act.

Judge Soper, however, declined
to take Woodcock's construction of the law, and refused to so charge
the jury.
Judge Soper's charge to the jury
preceded the arguments in the case, which were opened by Arthur
W. Machen, for the defense.

Case Given to Jury.
Machen told the jury it was not
John Philip Hill who was on trial,
"but the last vestige of American liberty." Woodcock objected and Judge Soper told Machen he could not make an anti-prohibition speech
in court.

District Attorney Woodcock's
argument was brief and closed the hearing. Among other things he said a conviction would be just as
satisfactory to Hill as an acquit-
tal. Hill and his attorneys voiced
ment.
The attorneys for the defendant
asked the Court to strike the remark from the record and to impress the jury with the fact that
a verdict.
The jury was given the case at
the opening of the afternoon session.

The Intent of Congress.
In ruling on the admissibility
of certain testimony, Judge Soper
yesterday declared his opinion that Congress intended to permit the

MARY GARDEN JUST HOPES BUSY-BODIES "SPRAINED AN EYE"

Admits Taking "Au Naturel" Swim in Mediterranean Two Miles From Shore.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Mary Garden really did hop overboard into the blue waters of the Mediterranean, "au naturel," as was cabled from Monte Carlo recently.
The prima donna admitted it last night when she arrived on the Olympic from her summer holiday.
Incidentally, she arrived weighing only 112 pounds, or 17 pounds less than when she departed.
"Just to get out in the sunshine and in the cool waters of the sea, just as God made us, is the real tonic for the human system," said the singer. "God never intended that we should wear clothes. That is civilization's mark."
The prima donna said the sun and the waters of the great sea made a youth-giving tonic. She admitted she went in her motor boat about two miles off shore, got out of her bathing suit, stretched herself out on a seat and let the sun do its worst. "After sunning myself for an hour I dived overboard, swam about for 20 minutes and then went ashore." Miss Garden inferred that there must have been some bodies on shore with powerful lenses, and said she hoped some of them "sprained an eye."

BUYING RUSH CONTINUES, BOOSTING MORE STOCKS

350,000 Shares Sold in First Half Hour—Two Dozen Issues Reach New Peaks.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Speculation in stocks continued in today's market, another deluge of buying orders sending more than two dozen issues to new peak prices for the year in the first half hour.
Total sales were in excess of 350,000 shares in that period and before the end of the day's trading, ran over the 2,000,000 mark, this being the fourth consecutive day of sales in excess of that figure.
Early gains ranged from fractions to 4 points and, except in a few cases, were well maintained throughout the first hour's trading.
An enormous amount of profit taking was evident, but the complete picture was rather complacent, with a reduction in the revenue rate for call money from 2 1/2 to 2 per cent.
Realizing sales were particularly heavy in the railroad shares. Frisco common, which soared 4 points to 51 at the opening, broke to 47 1/2 and then rallied above 49. Southern Pacific dropped back about a point from its record high of 105 1/2.
American Can and Baldwin were heavy from the start. The list of new highs embraced a wide variety of issues, including Missouri Pacific common, Wabash preferred
A, "Katy" preferred, General Asphalt, Pure Oil, American Smelting, Continental Can, Corn Products, Pullman and Eastman Kodak.
Commodity markets turned reactionary. Wheat broke about 3 1/2 cents a bushel, corn dropped 2 cents and coffee sold off 15 to 27 points. The cotton market moved steadily. Refined sugar prices dropped 25 points.
Foreign exchange also went lower.

MRS. HARDING IS STRONGER

Sleeps Five Hours; Complications Unchanged.

By the Associated Press.
MARION, O., Nov. 12.—Mrs.
Warren G. Harding, critically ill at the White Oaks Farm home, near Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, near here, was somewhat stronger this morning, having slept five hours last night,
according to a bulletin given out this morning by Dr. Sawyer.
"Complications and other conditions which have been present are unchanged," Dr. Sawyer said.

NATION AND STATE REPRESENTED AT LODGE FUNERAL

Secretaries Hughes and Weeks, President's Naval Aid and Congressional Committees Present.

FLAGS AT HALF MAST IN CAMBRIDGE

Bells Toll at the Hour of Service Which Is Made as Simple as Episcopal Rites Permit.

By the Associated Press. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 12.—In the simple rites of the Episcopal Church, funeral services were held for Senator Henry Cabot Lodge today in Christ Church, which he had attended while a student at Harvard, where his marriage was solemnized, and where funeral services for his wife were held some years ago. In a voice that trembled with the intensity of his sorrow, Bishop William Lawrence, of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts, chanted and lifelong friend of Senator Lodge, read the prayers.

Except for the presence of representatives of the nation, the State, the judiciary, and other branches of public life, the funeral observance was kept as private as was possible in the case of a distinguished public man. Admission to the church was by ticket and there were many empty pews, while thousands stood in the street outside.

The space in front of the altar was banked with flowers, some bearing the names of those in highest official position in the nation. One wreath was sent at the request of Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador, on behalf of the British empire.

As the Service.

The members of the family occupied the pews on the right side of the church at the front, and with them were the honorary pallbearers, all long-time friends of the Senator. On the left side in front were the official representatives from Washington, headed by Secretaries Hughes and Weeks, and including Capt. Adolphus Andrews, naval aide to the President, there as the President's personal representative. Gov. Cox also occupied a place with these officials and behind, in order, were the committees of the Senate, House of Representatives and the judiciary.

As the church bells tolled for the opening of the service, Bishop Lawrence walked down a side aisle to meet the casket and accompanied it to the altar. It was of plain black design, with a few sprays of violets on the top. During the service guards representing the Army, Navy and Marine Corps stood at attention beside the casket. A supplied chair sang "The Strife Is Over" and "The Son of God Goes Forth to War."

Several times in the course of his reading of the service the Bishop's voice seemed on the point of breaking.

According to a wish expressed by Senator Lodge, his body was placed in the family vault on the side of a hill overlooking Mount Auburn Lake in the cemetery of that name. Only the family accompanied the body to the cemetery with the honorary pallbearers and Bishop Lawrence, who read the brief commitment service of the Episcopal church.

Bells Are Told.

The town hall at Nahant, where Senator Lodge had come time after time from the affairs of the nation to preside over town meetings, was closed for the day. Bells tolled at noon in many places.

The body of Lodge rested last night in the Deacon street home of his chum, Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow, viewed by none but his family, while to the door from time to time came more of the persons who during the past two days had sought to pay personal tribute to his memory at the bier. For the most part they were persons in the commoner walks of life. The word to all was that the Senator's family wished to be alone with their dead until the funeral services.

CHARGED WITH PRACTICING MEDICINE WITHOUT LICENSE

William George of 6029 Minnesota avenue was charged today with practicing medicine without a license, on the complaint of Mrs. Mary Bova, 525 E. Spencerville street, who asserted she paid him $12.50 for treating her 7-year-old son, Harry.

Mrs. Bova told the police the boy was suffering with a growth on the neck and that George treated it by the laying on of hands, without medicine. She has a request dated Sept. 24 for the money she paid, she said.

Eggs Up 3 Cents.

The wholesale price of best quality eggs advanced from 46 cents per dozen to 49 cents today. The increase was attributed to decreased shipments into St. Louis caused by the rain and cold weather.

Test in Changing Mercury To Gold Being Made

Aim of Experiment Is to "Crack" Atoms of Quicksilver, Drive Off One Electron, and Leave Pure Gold.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Scientific American made known last night that it would direct an attempt to convert quicksilver into gold, in experiments already in progress under Prof. H. H. Sheldon, department of physics, New York University.

"We believe the effort will be successful," said E. E. Free, editor. "The experiments probably will take from two to four months." He explained that Prof. Sheldon's efforts would be directed toward confirming, by a different progress, results achieved by Prof. Adolph Miethe at Charlottenburg Technical College, Berlin. A duplicate of the apparatus used by Prof. Miethe has been sent here for study.

The apparatus now being set up here consists chiefly of a quartz lamp, which incandescent tubes and electric paraphernalia. The lamp will hold about half an ounce of quicksilver vapor.

"Cracking" of Atom.

The theory is that a current of 170 volts and an amperage to be determined, will "crack" the atoms of the quicksilver, "knock off" the eightieth planetary electron which differentiates quicksilver from gold, and leave atoms with a planetary system of 79 electrons—pure gold.

The eighth electron will have to be knocked off from billions of atoms if the experiment with the half-ounce of quicksilver is successful. For, as Free said, "if the gold is taken to plate the head of a pin there are atoms enough so each person in the world could have several thousand of them."

Incidentally, said Free, the "cracking" of the quicksilver atoms will be the same feat which a scientist in London recently announced he proposed to accomplish before an audience—at great hazard to himself and spectators.

But, Free declared, there was no hazard connected with such an undertaking. Scientists have "cracked" the atoms of at least 14 elements without incident, he added.

Prof. Miethe's discovery that quicksilver could be transformed into gold was an accident. Using a quartz lamp and quicksilver vapor he was seeking to determine the effect of violet electric rays upon the vapor. After 200 hours of operation his apparatus became clogged. He took it apart and discovered his tubes were choked with pure gold.

A repetition of the experiment brought the same result, according to German scientific treatises which brought news of the discovery to the attention of the Scientific American.

Possible Effect of Experiment.

Mr. Free, whose articles on the Bohr theory of atomic structure have been widely quoted by American scientific publications, declined to predict what effect upon the financial structure of the nation the cheap manufacture of gold might have. In the industrial field, however, the electric "gold" would be a "revolution," he said. "For gold would replace copper in the making of chemical stills, telegraph and telephone wires, the instruments and machinery in numerous instances."

"We believe our experiments will be successful," he continued. "Accurate records will be kept so that in estimate of the cost of producing gold may be made. We shall make the best possible estimate of the time—if ever—when the world will have to face the threat of cheap gold. The extent to which artificial gold will be used in industry and in the arts will depend in large measure upon its cost. The object of our undertaking, therefore, is not merely to make gold, but to discover what it will cost to make gold."

NO TAX REVISION PLANNED BEFORE DECEMBER, 1925

Administration Will Not Ask for Action by Next Congress—Coolidge and Mellon Confer.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The administration has no present intention of pressing for tax legislation at the coming short session of Congress, it became known today after Secretary Mellon had conferred with President Coolidge.

It is understood Mellon does not consider it practical to take up the problem at this session because of the lack of time and in view of other difficulties entering into the situation. Neither has the administration given any consideration so far to the calling of a special session of the new Congress after next March 4 to consider tax reduction.

Administration officials feel it would be rather futile to renew the tax fight at the short session, since the problem has just been thrashed out and the resulting law is just now going into effect.

What Congress itself may attempt, without recommendation from the administration, is another question. Some elements in the Senate and House want immediate action, despite the fact that the Republican party leaders seem agreed with the White House as to the inadvisability of such a course.

Others are pressing for a special session after March 4 and it remains to be developed whether they will muster sufficient strength to convince the President that such a session could be called.

JUDGE ORDERS JURY IN HILL TRIAL TO DECIDE WHAT IS INTOXICATING

It was the intent of Congress, as set forth in Section 29 of the Volstead act, to permit the manufacture of fruit beverages and cider for home consumption, regardless of the alcoholic limit of one-half of one per cent set forth elsewhere in the act.

Judge Soper added, however, that should such a law be enacted, fact intoxicating their manufacture would be a violation of the law, as would their sale or delivery, except to persons having permits for the manufacture of fruit beverages.

The judge also declared that, in his opinion, defendants in such cases could offer evidence to show that their beverages were not in fact intoxicating.

This statement was interpreted by lawyers as meaning that the burden of proof would rest upon the Government.

Antisocial League Council Approves Court's Ruling.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Antisocial League, in a statement last night, said "Judge Soper is clearly right in holding that cider and fruit juices, made in the home for exclusive home use, are not prohibited by the Federal law, unless intoxicating in fact."

He added, however, that such liquor, he added, is whether they are intoxicating."

PARROT GRIEVES FOR WALLACE

Bird in Office of Late Cabinet Officer Becomes Despondent.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Deposition of the late cabinet officer, Wallace, today showed symptoms of grieving itself sick over the loss of its master.

Given a prominent place in his office, the parrot, Polly, pet of the late Secretary, was despondent today, gave concern still is felt for four of them. None is out of danger. Supt. Mosby said, and it may be 25 hours or more before their exact condition is determined.

The deaths of W. H. Hutchinson of Corry, Pa., and James K. Collins of New York City brought to 10 the number of deaths which resulted from the drinking ether Monday preparation.

SCHALL VOTE UNDER INQUIRY

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 12.—Charges alleging violation of the corrupt practices act in behalf of the Senatorial candidacy of Thomas D. Schall, were submitted for consideration of Hennepin County grand jury today by County Attorney Floyd B. Olson.

Congressman Schall, Republican, defeated Senator Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor Senatorial candidate, at the recent election.

The allegations are made in a letter received by Olson from Henry C. Teigen, Senator Johnson's secretary. The Teigen letter was placed before the grand jury by Olson.

Jail Mop Makes Druggan Ill.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—When Terry Druggan, former gangster and beer magnate, brought back from San Francisco to serve a year for contempt, was clad in overalls and handed a mop today, he fell to the floor complaining of pain.

The jail physician, Dr. F. W. McNamara, pronounced him ill, and he was sent to the hospital.

Edwin Testifies Regarding Connection With the Wabash, Pittsburgh Terminal Co.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The late Andrew Carnegie, influenced the Goulds to become interested in the Wabash, Pittsburgh Terminal Co., in opposition to the Pennsylvania Railroad, to which he was bitterly opposed, it was testified today by Edwin Gould at the referee's hearing of the $22,000,000 accounting suit involving the estate of the late Jay Gould.

Gould owned a short railroad connecting his plants outside of Pittsburgh with Pittsburgh when the Pennsylvania Railroad encouraged a Gould line, it was brought out. Under cross-examination by counsel for Frank J. Gould, Edwin Gould related conferences he had with Carnegie, with reference to the connection of the Goulds with the Wabash, Pittsburgh Terminal Co.

Edwin Gould testified that at the time of the Harriman-Gould fight 50 per cent of the Gould lines were single-tracked, unballasted and subject to great damage in times of storm and flood.

Reverting to personal affairs of the Gould family, the witness said he had refreshed his memory since testifying previously and declared that the trustees of the estate had been advised by Carnegie of the marriage of Anna Gould, now the Duchess de Tallard, in accordance with the terms of Jay Gould's will.

Gould contradicted testimony previously given by his sister, Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, formerly Helen Gould, that her brother, Frank Gould, had made a flat offer of $50 a share for the estate's holdings of Missouri Pacific stock.

URGES LAW TO FORBID DRIVERS FROM PASSING STANDING CARS

Safety Engineer for United Railways Wants Change in Traffic Code to Prevent Accidents.

By the Associated Press.

E. K. Eastham, safety engineer for the United Railways Co., today urged the Traffic Council to ask the Legislature to change the traffic law to forbid motorists from driving past standing street cars.

Under the new traffic code, which permits an automobile to pass a street car if there is a eight-foot clearance, there has been an increase of approximately 700 per cent in such accidents, he said.

An ordinance, which was replaced by the traffic code, forbade the passing of standing street cars, but the eight-foot clearance clause was put in the code so that it might coincide with the State traffic law.

It was held at the time that an ordinance which conflicts with the State law is unenforceable.

Eastham asked the Traffic Council, the Safety Council and other safety organizations to organize a committee to visit the Legislature when it convenes next January. His request was taken under advisement.

EFFORT TO FIND METEOR ENDS

By the Associated Press.

FLA. GASTROP, Ariz., Nov. 12.—The United States Smelting and Refining Co. of Boston has discontinued operations to find a meteor in Meteor Mountain, east of Flagstaff, and the plant machinery is being dismantled.

The company has been drilling in Meteor Mountain for two years to locate a meteor which is supposed to have buried itself to a great depth. Fragments about the crater contained considerable platinum and the operators hoped to locate a main body. It was reported last winter that the workers had found the meteor and would begin mining operations at once, but nothing of value developed and the removal of the machinery indicates that the search was futile.

TEMPORARY SPAN FOR DES PERES AT DELMAR BLVD.

Mayor Promises That Construction of Roadway Over Completed Part of Culvert Will Begin Soon.

After three months, during which Delmar boulevard traffic has been forced to detour six blocks in order to cross the River des Peres at Rosedale avenue, the city will construct a temporary roadway across the newly constructed culvert to permit the movement of east and west traffic.

Visiting the culvert yesterday with residents and business men of that vicinity, Mayor Kiel and President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service promised that construction of a macadam roadway over the completed part of the culvert would begin in a few days. The roadway will be opened after two weeks, it is expected, at an estimated cost to the city of about $5000.

President Kinsey explained today that the city has intended, since the street was blocked in August, to build a temporary roadway as soon as the culvert work progressed to a point where it was possible. At last the north half of the culvert is finished and it is now possible to fill that part in and open one-way traffic, he said.

Complaints of Merchants.

Merchants of that vicinity have complained since September, declaring that business was detouring south on Rosedale via Kingsbury place along with the automobiles and the busses. For a pedestrian to pass the 1000-foot excavation it was necessary, they complained, to walk six blocks around or pay 7 cents carfare for a ride across the United Railways temporary bridge.

Yesterday a delegation of the Greater Delmar Improvement Association waited on Mayor Kiel and President Kinsey and insisted they ride out and look over the situation. To their previous arguments they added the plea that Christmas was coming and with it the possibility that their Christmas trade would be lost unless something was done.

With the promises of Mayor Kiel and President Kinsey, the delegation will wait on Comptroller Nolte today and ask for an appropriation of $5000 for the roadway work. While Nolte would not state whether he would approve the appropriation, he favored the roadway, and argued that the work should be done by the regular street department using workhouse rock. Just how the work will be done remains to be decided.

Sewer Construction Delayed.

The contract for the sewer construction work in that section is held by Harry A. Hencke, who bid $97,590.80 and began excavating Nov. 23, 1923. The contract stipulated that the work be finished by July 23, 1924, or the contractor would be penalized $20 a day. Kinsey said it had not been decided whether the penalty would be exacted because the work had been tied up for more than two months last spring by abnormally heavy rains. He would not venture an opinion as to when the job would be finished.

ENGINEER FATALY HURT WHEN CARRYING CASKET

Illinoian Worked 35 Years Without an Injury, Then Suffered Abrasion Helping Undertaker.

After braving the perils of a locomotive engineer for 35 years without injury, Michael J. Mulcahy, engine driver on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, fell a victim yesterday to a slight abrasion on his knee suffered while helping an undertaker carry a coffin to a hearse. He died of blood poisoning at St. John's Hospital, where he was taken two weeks ago when his condition became critical.

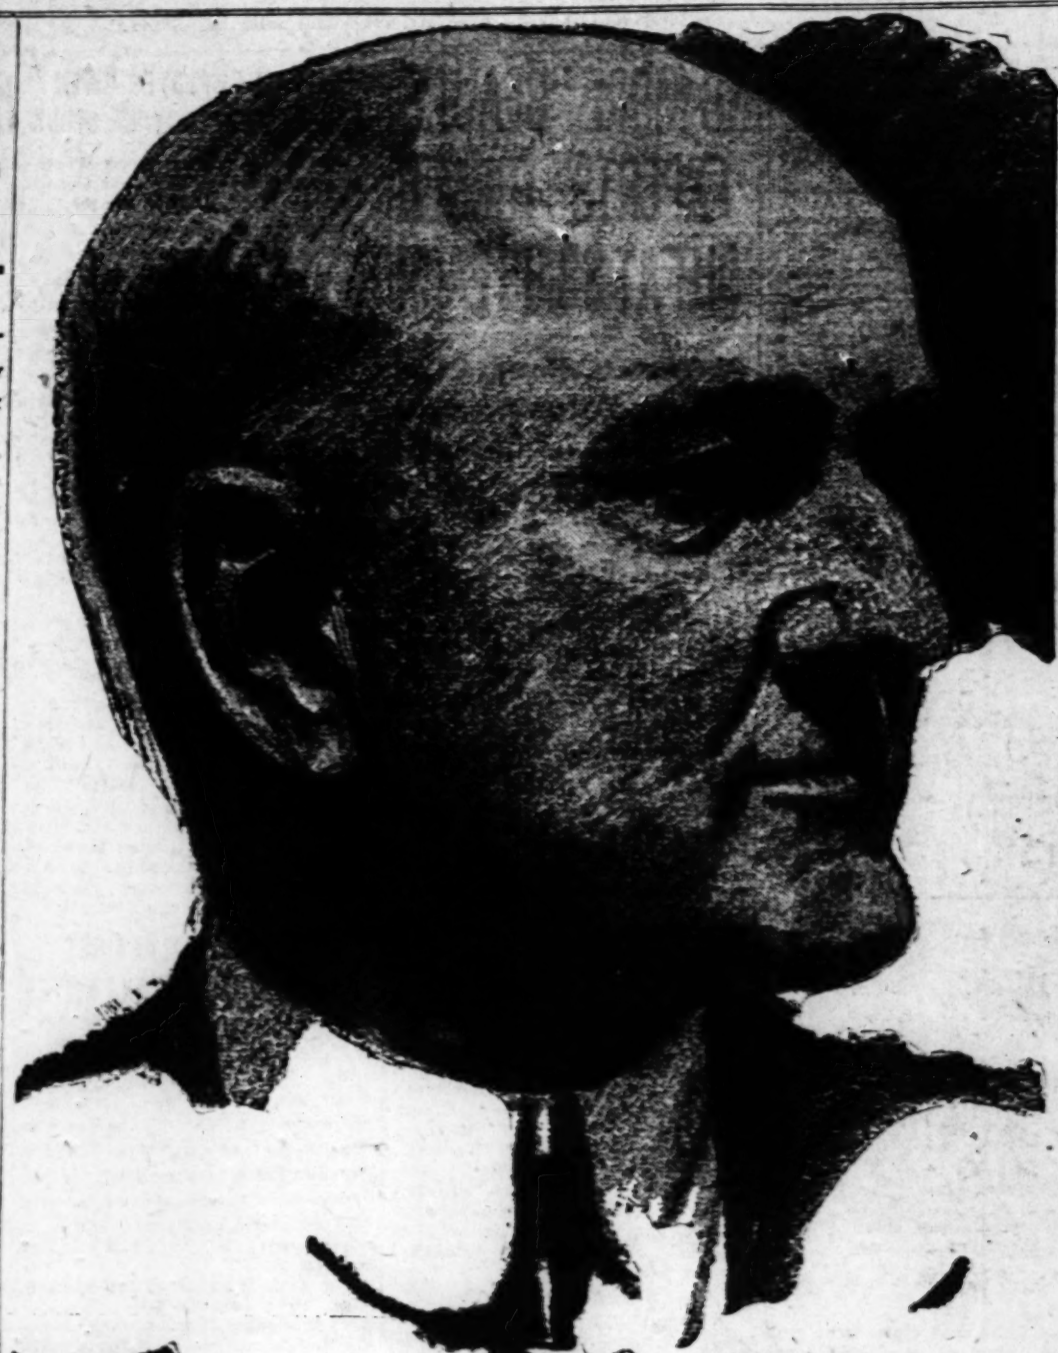

Mulcahy, whose "run" was between St. Louis and Murphysboro, Ill., was in the latter city a month ago when an undertaker chanced to ask him for assistance in carrying a casket. The engineer complied, but in attempting to lift one end of the casket, his hand slipped and his burden dropped, striking him on the knee. Mulcahy paid little attention to the resultant abrasion at the time, but several days later an infection developed and a physician ordered him to the hospital for treatment for blood poisoning.

Mulcahy was 63 years old and resided in Murphysboro. He is survived by two brothers, William and Daniel. Funeral services will be held at St. Peter and Paul's Church at Alton Friday morning.

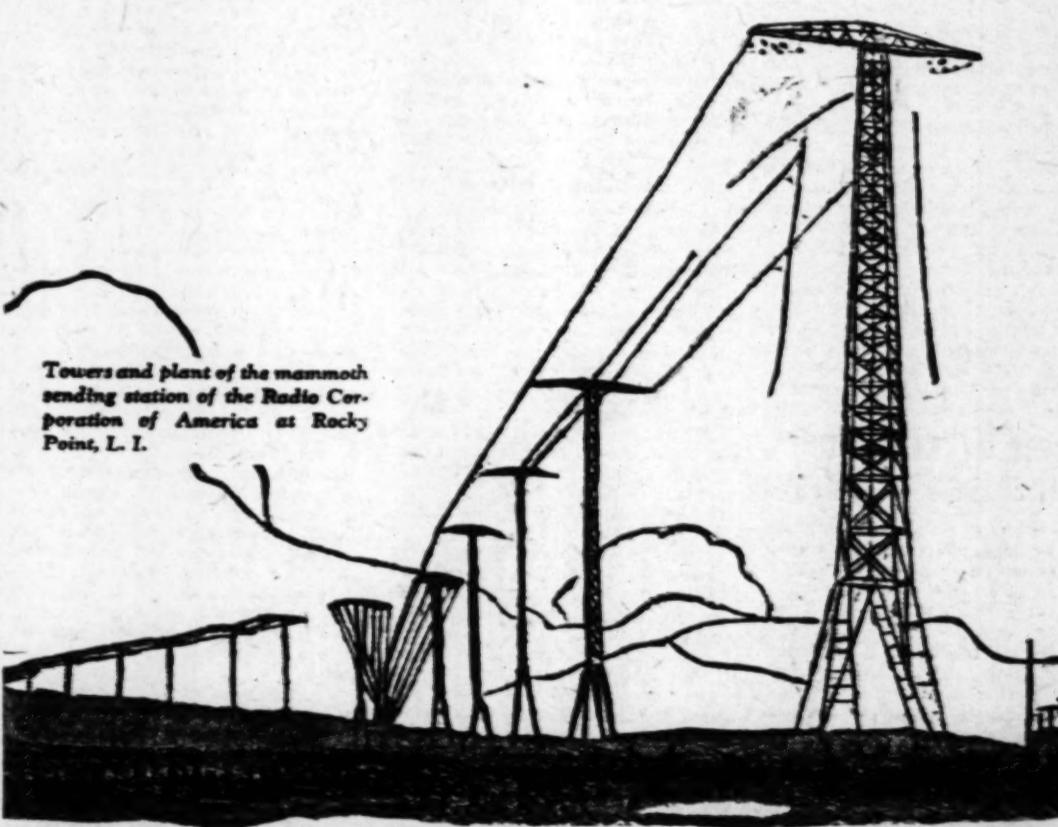

DEMOCRAT WINS BY ONE VOTE

HILLSBORO, Mo., Nov. 12.—Charles Goodnight of De Soto, a Democrat, was re-elected State Representative from Jefferson County by one vote, the official count shows. The poll was: Goodnight, 4878; Jesse Sargent, Republican, who resides south of Eureka, 4877.

Politicians, who attribute Goodnight's victory in a Republican county to his personal popularity, do not expect a contest, because the pay of the office would scarcely make that worth while.

How old are you in energy?

Squeeze the thumbnail hard. Unless it reddens again instantly upon withdrawing the pressure, Anemia is indicated.

THAT'S what counts! It's vitality—energy, that wins success.

Statistics show that eight out of ten people are suffering from Anemia—blood starvation. And energy needs red blood, high in iron and manganese content.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is the sure way to regain health and vitality. Rich in iron and manganese content, it is easily assimilated by the blood and distributed to every cell in the body—restoring its latent power. Physicians have prescribed it for thirty-two years.

Your druggist can now give you Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid or tablet form.

Sore Throat? Use Turpentine

Turpentine is the quickest known relief for sore throat. When it is rubbed on the throat it penetrates right through the pores into the inflamed inner tissues. It drives out the wastes and congestion. It releases healing vapors as soon as it is warmed by the internal body heat. And it attracts fresh, pure healing blood to the throat. However, raw Turpentine burns and smart and its smell is objectionable. So the burn and smell have been "refined out" without affecting its healing qualities. The new, refined product is known as "Turpo"—the Turpentine Ointment. For relief, so quick that it will be a revelation to you, get a 35c or 70c jar of Turpo from any druggist.

Salt's Fabrics

We are agents for this renowned Fabric. There is none better. The quality is supreme. See these beautiful coats today. Compare with real furs. They are as beautiful.

Nugents

The Store for ALL the People

The Fashion creators of Paris, with the wide world of fabrics at their finger-tips, this season have given unqualified endorsement to the new and luxurious "broadtail" effects for cloaks, wraps and ensemble Suits. Authoritative interpretations of the season's styles are now presented to you by NUGENTS through special arrangement with the makers who created these beautiful fabrics in their own French mills.

Salts Fur Fabric Coats

"Bokara"

This is a heavier weight fabric, with the embodied broadtail effect, combining the height of style, warmth, comfort and durability in garments which will astonish you with their moderate prices. To own either a MEDORA or a BOKARA garment from this offering will place you a season ahead in the coming styles.

"Medora"

The silky-soft hair of the kid-angora gives this fabric its lustrous, easily draping, luxurious quality. Not only is "MEDORA" handsome, but it develops garments made of it in a most practical way through its remarkable wearability. The beautiful broadtail effect embodied in the material, reflects light and shadow, with ever-interesting scintillation.

High Style, Exceptional Quality and Attractive Prices Feature These Further Offerings in Genuine SALT'S Fabrics.

Five generations of discriminating women have accepted genuine SALT'S fine fabrics, the same as the "STERLING" mark on silver. "There is none better." They are quality supreme! When you become the possessor of a garment identified by the genuine "SALT'S" label, you have the satisfaction of knowing your purchase money could get nothing finer.

"MEDORA" and "BOKARA"

In Fashionable Cloaks and Wraps

The Paris salons introduced most interesting models in other Fall openings, just announced. The models here offered for your inspection have, many of them, been developed on these lines, and we take pride in their up-to-the-moment smartness and "chic." You will be pleased to own one.

THE MOVIE SHEIK'S NEW MOORISH BEARD

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood. Rudolph Valentino, the movie sheik, returned from Europe to the United States this week wearing a Moorish beard of reddish hue. He also wore corse suspenders to match the whiskers. He has been in Spain in search of "color" for a picture in which it is said he will play the part of a Moor.

NEWARK AND BOYLE ARE ARRESTED IN CHICAGO RAID
Assistant Fire Marshal and Brother of Union Officer Held on Charge of Counterfeiting.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Ben Newmark, assistant State Fire Marshal, charged in a Federal warrant with counterfeiting, and Thomas Boyle, brother of Mike Boyle, union officer, were arrested last night by detectives making a chance raid on an apartment in the hope of developing a clue to the slayers of Dion O'Bannon, gang leader, shot to death Monday.

Search for Newmark had been made for two days. Attorneys for him said he would surrender after bail arrangements had been made. They professed ignorance of his whereabouts.

A "tip" that the slayers of O'Bannon would be found in a certain apartment led squads of detectives there. Newmark and Boyle were found asleep, and, according to detectives, said they did not know of the charges against Newmark.

Eleven arrests were made by secret service agents yesterday in connection with the alleged counterfeiting plot. Among them was Daniel Perry, a Municipal Court Bailiff.

NEW TOP HAT CABINET MEETS Baldwin's Men Step Out, for a Start, Under Umbrellas.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 13.—An overcast sky, drizzling rain and mist marked the first meeting at Downing street today of Prime Minister Baldwin's Cabinet which assembled to frame the statement of policy which will appear in the King's address on the opening of Parliament.

The drab wetness was to some extent offset by the resplendent attire and silk hats which the members of the Cabinet, almost without exception, wore for the occasion, presenting a striking contrast to the everyday working attire adopted by the members of the Cabinet of the Labor Government. Most of the Ministers decided, for today at any rate, to abandon their motor cars and walked to No. 10, shielding their top hats from the downpour as well as they could with umbrellas.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION BUILDING Plan for $250,000 Structure at Jefferson City Approved.

By the Associated Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 12.—In connection with announcements that contracts would be let at Jefferson City this month for practically all of the unpaved sections of the St. Louis-Kansas City airline highway, Chairman Gary refused to predict when the road would be completed and open to traffic, but indicated that it would be about two years.

The Highway Commission also has approved plans for the erection of a building in Jefferson City to house the commission department at a cost of $250,000. The Highway Department now occupies about 6000 square feet of floor space in the Capitol and it was explained that the space was needed

Teaspoonful of Powder From Italy Placed in Shoes Relieves Man of Rheumatic Pain Almost at Once

When he went into the store to get this marvelous powder, he was a cripple. Because of the terrible, torturing effects of rheumatism he was struggling about on two canes.

Later the same man, Mr. F. B. (name on request), of New York City, wrote the following letter:
"It gives me pleasure to inform you that one box of your powder completely cured me in three days of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for some time."

The discoverer of this powder is Alessandro Volta, the well-known Italian physicist for whom the electric volt was named. He discovered a scientific combination of certain ingredients which he compounded into a fine powder. This powder, when shaken into the shoes or stockings, is intended to penetrate immediately through the myriad pores in the soles of the feet.

He has called the powder Volta.
It has been so successful in the treatment of thousands of cases of rheumatism, many of which were

Says: It Ends Neuralgia

"No matter where located—to get quick relief from the agony rub on penetrating John-Rose," says a New England chemist.
Of course, John-Rose is the only great external remedy for inflamed, swollen, stiff joints in neck, knee, hip, shoulder, finger or spine, and for that purpose its use is irrefragable.

But its power to give almost instant relief in neuralgia, sciatica and lumbago is beyond better known every day—drugs cannot touch a neuralgic rubbing, and it is very penetrating—A tube for 50 cents at

REVENGE THEORY FOR MURDER OF PUTNICK GIRL

Father Tells Police Bootleggers Arrested 18 Months Ago Suspected
Him of Being Informer.

TWO OTHER LINES OF INQUIRY SUGGESTED

Investigation Now Largely a One-Man Affair—300 Persons Attend Funeral Services of Victim.

A theory that the murder of Anna Putnick, 16-year-old elevator girl, was an act of revenge on the part of bootleggers against her father, as a supposed informer against them, is being investigated by the Madison County authorities, who are without any other definite clue to the perpetrators of the crime of last Saturday evening.

The father, George Putnick, a Granite City shoe repairer, brought the matter of bootleggers' possible responsibility for the crime to the attention of Deputy Sheriff Odum yesterday.

"A yardman for the Illinois Central, who called at my house to see Anna's body, told me," Putnick said, "that he heard some talk about the murder Monday night in the I. C. yards. He heard someone say, 'That Putnick girl and her father turned up some bootleggers, and the bootleggers got her for it.'"

"The fact is that, when my family and I were living in Tri-City Park, between a year and a half and two years ago, some bootleggers lived in a place back of us.
They were arrested, and they suspected me of having informed against them."

"I told them I didn't do it, but I don't think they believed me."
A weak point in the bootlegger theory, it appeared to the investigators, was the length of time, 18 months or more, which has elapsed between the supposed offense of Putnick and the murder of his daughter. That is a long time to wait for revenge. But the Sheriff's force is looking for the bootleggers, who used to live near the Putnicks.

Tri-City Park, and the vacant tract lying between it and the boundaries of Madison and Granite City, form a sort of municipal no-man's land. It was in the vacant tract, 100 feet from the C. P. &
St. L. railroad tracks, that Anna Putnick's body was found Sunday morning. The fact that the murder occurred there is indicated by the statement of a girl friend that Anna left her at Fourteenth street and Madison avenue at 7:30 p. m.
Saturday, to walk through the unlighted tract to the home of Anna Morian.

Funeral Held Yesterday.
The Putnicks now live at 2884
Twenty-fourth street, Granite City.
Anna Morian was an acquaintance of Anna Putnick when the Putnicks lived in Tri-City Park, and the two had planned to go to a dance in East St. Louis Saturday night. Anna Morian has related that Anna Putnick did not reach her house, and was not at the dance, and several young men who were at the dance have supported the latter statement.

The Madison police are giving some attention to the case, but the investigation yesterday became largely a one-man affair, being left to Deputy Odum. Two other lines of inquiry, besides that involving bootleggers, have been suggested to Odum, he said today, but he has not gone far enough with either to judge whether it may lead to anything.

More than 300 persons stood in and near the two-story frame home of the Putnick family, when An-na's funeral was held yesterday afternoon. Many of them followed to St. John's Cemetery, Granite City. Joseph Simich and other young men, acquaintances were palbearers, and there were more than 50 floral gifts. Anna Morian was one of a large number of young women present. Anna Put-nick was employed in the Liberty Central Building, St. Louis.

HEIR TO LARGE ESTATE IS BEING SOUGHT HERE

Police Looking for Mark Raymond, Formerly of Greeley, Colo., to Tell Him of His Heritage.

Mark Raymond, about 25 years old, formerly of Greeley, Colo., is being sought by the police here in order that they may inform him he is sole heir to a considerable estate. If he isn't found soon, he stands to lose his heritage by being declared legally dead because, according to relatives, he has already been absent seven years.
The Rev. C. Rexford Raymond of Greeley, uncle of the missing man, has written the police here that he is convinced his nephew is in St. Louis. About a month ago, he relates, Mark Raymond telegraphed a friend in Des Moines, Ia., asking that money be sent to him in St. Louis. The friend sent the money but it was never called for here, although Raymond, upon telephoning the office of the telegraph company, was informed the funds awaited him.

Important Points About Your Will

No. 5

Where to Keep Your Will

After a will is made, it should not be placed in some obscure hiding place where it will be found only after a difficult search, but should be deposited in the care of this Company.

We will hold your will safekeeping without charge. We will place it in our vaults, where it can be withdrawn during your lifetime, either by you, or upon your written order. After your death, it will be delivered to the Probate Court. This eliminates all possible chance of it being lost or purposely destroyed to defeat your wishes.

By naming the St. Louis Union Trust Company as executor and trustee, you assure to your heirs the financial responsibility, training and experience of an institution skilled in estate and trust matters, and you make certain that your wishes will be faithfully carried out.

We will gladly send you our booklet, "Safeguarding Your Family's Future," which contains much information about wills and trust company service.

PLAN TO DRIFT OVER NORTH POLE MAY BE ABANDONED

Advices From the Maud Indicate Conditions Are Unfavorable. Explorer Sverdrup Says.

CHRISTIANIA, Nov. 12.—Commenting today upon the latest report from the Amundsen exploration ship, the Maud, Polar Explorer Otto Sverdrup said:

"As far as I can see, the Maud must abandon her plans to drift across the North Pole. Reports are most unfavorable, as the Deceber Islands are closer to the Siberian mainland than the route the ship ought to have followed. We are already in the middle of November and the chance of a new move is small until next summer or autumn."

The message from the Maud follows:

"Came free of ice Aug. 7. 76.25
degrees north, 143.29 degrees east.
Impossible to go around New Siberia. Had to turn and go west around Svalbard. Passed Laptev straits Aug. 19. seven miles from Cape Baranof. Aug. 27. No possibility of proceeding inside or outside and had to go under Bear Island. Now lie four miles north.
Four sailors on island. The Maud sprang a little leak astern working through ice. Otherwise all well (signature) WISLING."

On board the Maud now are Capt. Wisling, leader of the expedition instead of Capt. Amundsen, who is in the United States;
Dr. Sverdrup, Karl Hansen, the Swedish meteorologist; Malmgren Ole Dahl, J. Dahl, the Russian scientist Olenkin, and the Eskimo Kakot.

SUES FOR GAS STATION PERMIT

Company Files Petition Against Board for Erection of Building.
A suit was filed by the Sun Realty Co. today to compel the Board of Public Service to issue a permit for the installation of a gasoline filling station on the northwest corner of Kingshighway and Cabanne avenue.

The petition states the board refused on Nov. 5 to issue the permit, stating that the filling station would be objectionable to residents of the vicinity. The plaintiff contends these reasons do not constitute a legal excuse for refusal.
Arguments in the case will be heard in Circuit Judge Frey's court Monday.

MAN HIT BY POLE
WHILE LEAVING OUT

C. S. Rogers Died, After Being Taken to Hospital
—Discovery of New Evidence Is Reported.

By the Associated Press.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 12.—New evidence in the death of Charles C. G. Rogers, nephew of Mrs. Ogden Reid, of New York, has come into the possession of Ward Church, grand juror prosecuting officer of the town of North Haven, where Rogers was found dying on the night of Nov. 1. The grand juror declined to discuss the nature of the evidence, but said he intended to take it up with State's Attorney Arnon N. Alling of New Haven County. The State's Attorney's office previously announced the intention of the office to stand on the report of Coroner Mix that Rogers was fatally injured when his head struck a telephone pole as he was leaning out of the car driven by Miss Marjorie Schneider of this city.

Constable Carl Carlson of North Haven reported that he had come into possession of a blood-stained napkin and towel found by a boy near where Rogers was found dying in Miss Schneider's automobile. Church declined to admit that the napkin and towel were the new evidence in question. There was no official confirmation of rumors that Rogers had engaged in a fight with another man at a hotel. Church last night announced his intention to issue a warrant for Miss Schneider on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Church's action will be based on the finding issued by County Coroner Eli Mix, in which he declared that Miss Schneider and Rogers, before attending the Yale-Army football game, had luncheon and "each drank at least one Scotch highball" at a local cafe; that after the game they returned to the cafe "where at least one more Scotch highball was served to them;" that they then visited Long Hill Inn at Wallingford where they had dinner "sitting at a table by themselves, at which intoxicating drinks were served to them," and that "other intoxicating drink was taken by deceased and Miss Schneider at two other tables occupied by friends and acquaintances," and that "when they left the inn they were both more or less under the influence of intoxicants taken at said inn."

M. Jay Racusin, said to represent Mrs. Ogden Reid, aunt of Rogers, came to this city yesterday and after visiting Coroner Mix and obtaining a copy of all the evidence, went to a hotel where he was visited by Miss Schneider and other witnesses who had appeared in the case before the Coroner.

AMERICAN BAKING CO. STOCK CHANGES HANDS IN MERGER

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—George C. Barber, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Continental Baking Co., yesterday announced that company has acquired 55 per cent of the outstanding stocks of the American Bakery Co. of St. Louis.

The stock transaction is incidental to the merger of the American Bakery Co. into the Continental Baking Co. The Continental Baking Co. is a $500,000 corporation recently formed at Baltimore for this purpose. Other concerns which it is reported, may be merged into the Continental are the United Bakeries Corporation, Ward Baking Corporation, Grennan Bakeries, Inc., General Baking Corporation and the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Co.

The American Bakery Co. is a Missouri corporation composed of the Wells-Bottler, Heydt, Hauck-Haer, Home and Freund bakeries. A. F. Wells, its president, announced several weeks ago that its stock was being pooled for entry into the merger.

Attorney-General Barrett is investigating developments in the formation of the combine to determine whether any of the steps in its organization are in conflict with the antitrust laws of Missouri.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole.
That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.
Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.
As effective as the newer oil mustard plaster, does the work without plaster. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.
To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c. in jars and tubes.

MAN LEAP FROM BRIDGE

Man Report They Witnessed Jump From Span.

A man, described as about 35 years old and bald, leaped from the south rail of the Free Bridge, 100 feet east of the St. Louis end of the bridge, at 5 p. m. yesterday, and disappeared in the river below, according to a report made to police by W. F. Dement, 3805 Sullivan avenue, and Tony Kaemmerer, 5113 Spalding avenue.

They said the man was about 5 feet 8 inches, wore a dark suit and cap and was smooth faced. The cap blew off as he leaped from the rail.

Children Are Ill if they won't play

Watch them carefully. You can forestall a serious ailment with a spoonful of
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

WHEN you see a child moping, avoiding companions and toys and play, look at its tongue and you will usually find it coated—a reliable symptom of constipation.

Fortwith give a teaspoonful of Dr.
Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It will operate in a few hours and the child will feel better again.
If there is also feverishness, sneezing and sniffing give another teaspoonful the following night, to make sure that all danger is past.

It is perfectly unnecessary to give young children strong physics and car-minatives as they are apt to set up a bad habit they will later find difficult to throw off.

A mild vegetable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin meets all their requirements, and as it is pleasant to take you will find no difficulty administering it.

Experienced mothers learned its value long ago, for it has been on the market over thirty years, and Mrs. Josie Clark, Rocky, Okla., and Mr.
Charles Lewis, Blackwood, N. J., attribute the general good health of their families to the prompt use of Syrup Pepsin at the right moment. They have it constantly in the house, knowing they can relieve over night constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, flatulence, headache, sour stomach, fever, colds and other disorders accompanying or due to a constipated condition of the intestines and bowels.

You can buy a bottle at any drug store
at an average cost of less than a cent a dose.

The ingredients of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup
Pepsin are very generally known, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and agreeable aromatics, and wholly free of opiates and narcotics.
The formula, which is on every package, was written by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine for forty-seven years.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

There are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, pin their name and address to it, and send it to the Syrup Pepsin Co., 519 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois, and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. Do not include postage. It is free.

HOMICIDE VERDICT IN DEATH OF OFFICER

Four Men Named by Coroner's Jury in Connection With Fatal Wounding of Sgt.
Woody.

A Coroner's verdict of homicide was returned against four men today in the case of Police Sergeant Robert E. Woody, who was shot and fatally wounded early Sunday morning by one of four highway men whom he surprised in an attempted robbery.

The men named in the verdict are Clay Cratty and Nicholas Hare, under arrest, and Albert Gregori and Edward Slivi, who have not been apprehended.

Identifies One Suspect.
Patrolman Henry Wieser, who was with Woody in the affray, today positively identified Cratty and Hare as two of the four robbers and said the shot that killed Woody came from where Cratty and another man, other than Hare, were standing. Hare, who has signed a statement detailing a series of holdups by the four men as well as the fatal shooting, acknowledged this statement on the witness stand today.

Cratty declined to testify, asserting police had denied him legal counsel.

The funeral of Sgt. Woody will be held this afternoon from an underwriting establishment at 1805 South Grand boulevard, with burial in St. Matthew's Cemetery.
Details of a holdup that preceded the shooting of Sgt. Woody were related today by E. J. Karm of 6748 Chamberlain avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Karm, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Adam Bub of 3562 Sullivan avenue, were driving north in Vandeventer avenue, near Easton avenue, late Saturday night, when they heard two revolver shots and saw a touring car approach from behind, with a man, holding a revolver, on the running board.
Thinking this car, which was also occupied by three other men, was being pursued by police, Karm increased the speed of his car to get away from danger.

Fire Three Shots.
At this the man on the running board, thought to have been Cratty, fired three more shots at Karm's car. One bullet penetrated the steel frame of the automobile and struck Mrs. Bub in the back, raising a wound. The others came dangerously close. Karm was then forced by the armed man to drive east into an alley between Kennerly and Lincoln avenues.

Karm and Bub and their wives were forced to get out of the car,
but the women were not molested.
Karm was robbed of $28 and keys and Bub of a small sum. A man, believed to have been Cratty, threatened to kill Karm and raised his revolver to strike Karm's head, but Mrs. Karm restrained him. Finally, after much swearing, the four robbers got back in their car and drove away.

JURY FAILS TO REACH VERDICT IN PONZI RICH-QUICK CASE

Accused Boston Man Argues Own Defense, Saying He Is Too Poor to Hire Lawyer.

By the Associated Press. —The jury in Suffolk Superior Court trying Charles Ponzi on a larceny indictment in connection with get-rich-quick schemes of four years ago today reported to Judge Bishop it was unable to agree on a verdict on any one of the four counts under consideration. The judge ordered the jury discharged.

The trial was completed late yesterday after Ponzi, acting as his own counsel, had summed up his case. The indictment originally had five counts but Judge Bishop instructed the jury to find a verdict of not guilty on one on which the State had not introduced evidence.

Ponzi in his closing argument emphasized that the jury must not only find that money was misappropriated but that there had been intention from the outset to misappropriate it. He reminded the jury that he had already served a term of imprisonment after conviction in Federal court on similar charges. He also declared that while four years ago he had $9-000,000, at present he was too impoverished to retain a lawyer for his defense. The indictment was based on complaints of Ponzi villents involving $10,800.

The very large and unusual purchase that brought about this event makes it possible for us to offer these attractive Dresses at a price far lower than their value. You will realize this when you see them, and you will also immediately realize that to buy an ample supply of these garments would be far more economical than to make them yourself. For each Dress is well made, with wide hem, neat seams and trimmings that will stand laundering. The fabrics are genuine Amoskeag ginghams in newest two-tone plaids, checks and combined effects of light blue, pink, gold, orchid, tan, brown and Copen.

Trim-fitting collars, new necklines, roomy sleeves, pockets, smart cuffs and youthful low waistlines with long sash belts are features of these garments.

Rick-rack braid, bias folds, novelty washable braids, pipings and other trimming ideas are employed. The colorings are the popular shades.

HUGHES, MELLON AND STONE EX REMAIN IN

Wilbur, Though Popu
tion, Is Expected to Q
ment, Possibly f

BY CHARLES MICHELSON,
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Officially there is no thought of any resignations expected of Secretary of Labor Hughes, who has several times told President of his desire to get back to private business after such a long stay.

As he was made known at the White House yesterday and may have been indicating that Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary Commerce Hoover have elected to remain in their respective positions, despite the widely circulated rumors that both were anxious to leave their portfolios, perhaps a view to possible eventualities in 1938.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon shows no symptoms of leaving Government service, and Attorney General Stone, Mr. Coolidge's appointee, naturally would be retained in any event.

About other members of the Cabinet, however, the reports conflict, despite the explicit statement from the White House that Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, for example, is expected to retire from office before the new administration is very far advanced. This is due to any dissatisfaction with his performance of his official duties. In fact, the Californian is popular with the administration, but there is a feeling that his official oddities might sometime lead to embarrassment. However, there will be no call for serious consideration of his resignation until a year or more away.

May Return to Bench.
As he was taken from a conspicuous place on the bench by the incident there could be no thought of inviting the resignation.
Nevertheless the belief continues that sooner or later Wilbur will become a Judge, probably of the rank that he was in California.

Postmaster-General New is another who is not expected to serve a new term. All his supporters in Indiana believe he is making up his mind to leave the post after the senatorship now held by James Watson, two years ago, and that in his own good will he will quit the administration to enter on the strenuous campaign such an ambition entails.

It is known that Secretary to President, Stimpf, cherishes the idea of being Postmaster-General, and with the idea that his appointment would be a vindication of the charges that grew out of the "Meadows of Dan" postmaster-ship and the other "Dear Ben" letters.

AMERICA IN PERIOD OF MORAL DECLINE, SAYS RABBI WISE

Fear of People to Take Lead
Peace Movement and Politicians Partisanship Are Causes

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 12.—
"Trends to world peace," was the topic for discussion at today's sessions of the sixth annual meeting of the American Council World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise and John Clark, former United States Supreme Court Justice, who are honorary members of the League of Nations, and Sir Willoughby Dickinson, chairman of the League of Nations Society, leaders of the world peace movement, spoke last night.

Rabbi Wise declared it was necessary that America put completely out of mind the idea of war. He said that we would have dealt differently with Japan if we had done so. America, he asserted, is passing through a stage of moral decline. One cause for this, he said, was the fear of the people to accept the burdens of taking the lead in the peace movement. Another cause was the spirit of partisanship instilled by the politicians, which prevents responsible for America's share to do her share to effect peace.

Commenting upon the statement of the late President Wilson's policy for America's partisanship in the peace movement had been made, Rabbi Wise expressed the opinion that Wilson would not have appeared in vain had not partisanship ruled in the way.

America has the opportunity to make a new world, said Sir Willoughby Dickinson, and never before has a country been better fitted to accomplish a great task. He said that this country, by reason of having united different peoples in peace, has an advantageous position for the task of rejuvenating the old world.

HUGHES, MELLON, HOOVER AND STONE EXPECTED TO REMAIN IN THE CABINET

Wilbur, Though Popular With Administration, Is Expected to Quit Navy Department, Possibly for Judgeship

By CHARLES MICHELSON,
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Officially there is no thought of any Cabinet resignations except that of Secretary of Labor Wilbur, who has several times told the President of his desire to get back to private business after the war.

It was made known at the White House yesterday and may be taken as indicating that Secretary Hughes and Secretary of Commerce Hoover have elected to remain in their respective posts, despite the widely circulated rumor that both were anxious to leave their portfolios, perhaps in view of possible eventualities in 1925.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon shows no symptoms of leaving Government service, and Attorney-General Stone, Mr. Coolidge's appointee, naturally would be retained in any event. About other members of the Cabinet, however, the reports come, despite the explicit statement from the White House, that Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, for example, is expected to retire before the new administration is very far advanced. AMERICA IN PERIOD OF MORAL DECLINE, SAYS RABBI WISE

Wise, Fear of People to Take Lead
From Movement and Politicians Finds Cause of Moral Decline.

By Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Rabbi Wise, world peace, was the main topic for discussion at tonight's sessions of the ninth annual meeting of the American Council World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise and John Clarke, former United States Supreme Court Justice, who are members of the League of Nations, and Sir Willoughby Dickinson, chairman of the League of Nations Society, leaders of the world peace movement, were last night.

Rabbi Wise declared it was necessary that America put completely out of mind the idea of war. He said that we would have dealt with Japan if we had done America, he asserted, is passing through a stage of moral decline. One cause for this, he said, was the fear of the people to accept burdens of taking the lead in peace movement. Another reason was the spirit of partisanship exhibited by the politicians, which he said was responsible for America's failure to do her share to effect peace.

Commenting upon the statement that the late President Wilson's America's partisanship in peace movement had been made high a level to be effective, Wise expressed the opinion that Wilson would not have been able to lead had not partisanship been in the way.

America has the opportunity to lead a new world, said Sir Willoughby. And never before has it been better fitted to accomplish a great task. He said that the country, by reason of having united different peoples in peace, has an advantageous position for the task of rejuvenating the world.

G. O. P. SCHISMS GIVE NORTHWEST DEMOCRATS HOPE

Republican Breaks Indicate Militant Revival of Old Rival Two or Four Years
Hence.

By GEORGE F. AUTHIER,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 12.—Examination of this region, where the recent election fight was the hottest, impels one to the belief that the Democratic party, low as its estate is at the present time in the Northwest, is about to experience a militant revival.

The debate now waging in Iowa as to whether a Democrat or an insurgent has been elected to the United States Senate, is indicative of what may happen in any one of the Northwestern States two or four years hence.

Just as Michigan, working out its salvation in the midst of an insurgency complex, sent Ferris, a Democrat, to the Senate two years ago, so there is a chance for the election of a Democrat to Congress in each of the States of Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota.

These are all normally Republican States. They have been taken out of the Republican column only by the surge of revolt against the Republican party finding its expression in the election of Republicans in name only in North Dakota, Wisconsin and Iowa, and of two Farmer-Labor Senators in Minnesota.

Farmers Feared Deadlock.

While the last election gave the Northwest, with the exception of Wisconsin, to the conservative Republican ticket, the Coolidge verdict in this region was by no means a landslide. Fear of economic disaster in an election thrown into the House of Representatives probably had more to do with anything else than the fact that the Republican party was giving Coolidge a majority. Other causes contributed, but with wheat selling at $1.50 a bushel, farmers who were just coming out of the woods hesitated to vote in a way that might lead to a change of government. The Democratic candidate of considerable vote in all of these States, the choice was Coolidge or an election thrown into the House. The Supreme Court issue, the Government ownership of railroads and the difficulty in forcing the heterogeneous elements enlisted under La Follette's banner to work in harness, all contributed.

But with the conservatives once more in the saddle, voters taking stock deny the West has ceased to be progressive in a moderate acceptance of the definition of the word. The fight is against radicalism. The party which appeals to its real sentiment in the future is assured of support.

PROF. BAUDE'S "COMET" IS REALLY MINOR PLANET

California Observations of Stellar Visitor Hampered by Errors of Former Reckoning.

By Associated Press.

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 12.—Preliminary calculations just completed under the direction of Prof. A. O. Leuschner of the astronomical department of the University of California, and his assistants, reveal that the fast-moving object discovered Oct. 23 last, by Prof. Baude at Bergedorf, Germany, is a minor planet moving in a highly eccentric ellipse at a high inclination to the ecliptic, close to the earth and near its perihelion, said an announcement by Prof. Leuschner today.

The calculations, the announcement said, were attended by great difficulties due to the discovery of errors in earlier observations. "While the inclination of about 26 degrees is exceeded by that of the planet Albert," said Prof. Leuschner's statement, "with inclination of about 33 degrees, while the eccentricity is about .55 is equalled by two other planets there is no other planet now known which has both such high inclination and eccentricity."

"At its closest approach to the earth, about a month before discovery, near perihelion on Sept. 28, the (new) planet's distance was about 20,000,000 or approximately twice the distance of the famous Eros and Albert at their closest possible approach. The new planet is about 7.85 seconds of arc. The length of the semimajor axis of the ellipse is two and three-fourths astronomical units."

The Rise of an Office Boy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—An office boy 23 years old, Ernest Sturges, the new chairman of the board of directors of the American Eagle, the Continental and the Fidelity-Phoenix Insurance Companies, Sturges went into the employ of the Continental company in 1922 and rose to the position of vice president and secretary of the allied companies before taking his present office. As chairman of the board of directors he succeeds the late Henry Evans, who also started as an office boy.

BARUCH PROPOSES COURT TO GUIDE BIG BUSINESS

Suggests That It Would Encourage Co-operation, but Should Have Power to Prevent Abuses.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A court of commerce before which business men could appeal in times of overproduction and low prices in order to arrange for the mutual fixing of prices and the curtailment of production, was proposed in a statement by Bernard M. Baruch, former head of the War Industries Board, following a closed meeting of 150 former members of the board yesterday.

Baruch's statement in part follows: "What shall be the attitude of Government toward business? During the war we built up great committees of industry, some of which have remained in the form of associations. These are capable of great good and possibly great harm. A grave question is, shall the Sherman antitrust law prevent such great combinations and associations, or shall business be permitted to combine for better production and distribution, thereby cheapening both and resulting in lower prices for the consumer. And if they are permitted to function, what regulatory or supervisory power should be exercised?"

"These combinations, by their mass production, increase the standard of living by placing in the hands of the greatest number of people many of the things which they need for comfort and luxury."

Court of Commerce.

"One of the ideas that we discussed among ourselves was the establishment of a court of commerce, before which business men would come with such questions as the Sherman antitrust law and low prices they could cut down production and fix a price. "If it were possible to establish such a court to say what could and could not be done, instead of an inquisitorial body like the Federal Trade Commission, it would be the purpose of getting the greatest efficiency in war time, with a minimum of profit and the least possible dislocation of industry. This was our specific task. We think we did it well."

"The mobilization of men, money, food and materials and manufacturing resources for the purpose of getting the greatest efficiency in war time, with a minimum of profit and the least possible dislocation of industry. This was our specific task. We think we did it well."

"Insofar as business is concerned, I would say this: The Dawes plan is a start in the right direction for the solution of the reparations problem. We must not permit ourselves to believe that it is a solution, but it is a step forward, and I believe that the other steps will follow."

"I think the last election settled certain social and economic questions. One of them is the railroad problem. Consolidations will be encouraged. Because of that and other things that I shall not dwell on, I believe that we are now facing an industrial and economic revival that may be so long continued as to be termed an industrial renaissance. I myself look for greatly improved business."

$10,000 PAID FOR MANUSCRIPT OF ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

J. P. Morgan's Librarian Retires
From Bidding on 27 Chapters of "Kidnaped."

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Rivalry of Miss Belle da Costa Greene, buyer and librarian for J. P. Morgan, and Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach forced the bidding for the manuscript of 27 chapters of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Kidnaped" to $10,000 before Miss Greene retired at yesterday's sale of manuscripts and autographs of the late William Harris Arnold.

Miss Greene for $1800 got four folio pages of manuscript in the hand of Laurence Sterne, written Dec. 28, 1761, as a supplement to the "Tristram Shandy" which she had already purchased. She also bought a manuscript of the first autobiography of the late Paul Hastings, Iowa just missed having a Democratic United States Senator. Minnesota has elected three Democratic Governors in the past—John Lind, John A. Johnson and Winfield Scott Hammond, as a result of the quarrels within the Republican organization.

North Dakota, when it elected Frazier two years ago, came close to electing a Democrat and narrowly escaped when Senator Lord comes up for re-election two years hence. U. S. G. Cherry, Democratic candidate for Senator in South Dakota, crowded McMeister for first place, although there were a flock of candidates dividing the anti-Republican vote with him.

The primary fights in North Dakota, Iowa, South Dakota and Wisconsin will be within the Republican party, leaving the Democratic candidate the beneficiary of the split. While Harding received 519,421 votes in this State as compared with 142,994 for Cox. This year Coolidge received 419,321 votes. La Follette 336,845 and Davis 55,767. The last election received a plurality of 266,427. Coolidge received only the nominal plurality of 82,976. However, the Democratic vote fell off from 142,994 for Cox to 55,767 for Davis. Most of these winning Democratic votes must have gone to La Follette, since

BERNARD M. BARUCH

ITALIAN BONDS, SOLD IN AMERICA, TO BE PAID SOON

Ambassador, in Banquet Speech, Says Issue Which Expires in February Will Be Taken Up.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Italian Government's bond issue, floated in this country and maturing next February, will be paid when due, Prince Gelasio Caetani, the Italian Ambassador, announced last night in an address at a banquet of the Italy-America Society in the Hotel Astor.

He cited this intention as proof of the economic reconstruction in Italy, and urged that closer commercial co-operation between the two countries be established, saying that "much has been achieved, but a great deal more can be accomplished."

Discussing the bond issue he said: "The willingness of the American people to co-operate is proved by the fact that lately there has been reason to believe that a large loan, such as are being negotiated for other European countries, could be placed successfully in this country."

"Italy, however, with her budget balanced and her prosperous industries, does not need or wish at present to increase her foreign liabilities this year by 2,400,000,000 lire, and strives chiefly to better her economic balance by natural and not artificial means. As proof of this I can state that the Italian bonds issued in the United States, which expire in February, 1925, are going to be renewed, and are going to be paid off."

Chance for Co-Operation.

Prince Caetani said that though Italy was at present in no need of financial aid from the United States, there were other fields in which greater reciprocal activities might be fostered. He gave as an example the cotton industry, saying that America, with her "highly developed and perfected" cotton-spinning and weaving industry and large production of cotton manufacturing machinery, "could easily co-operate with Italy, which, acting as a stepping stone for the United States, can join hands with your cotton growers, machine manufacturers and capitalists in conquering the large markets of the Near East."

Immigration Restriction.

Referring to immigration restrictions in the United States, he said: "Nobody can deny that the Italian people have been painfully impressed by the fact that the United States has considered it necessary to close its doors to immigration. Truly there is no resentment, but our people are aware of having largely contributed to the development of your country during the comparatively short time the Italian immigrants have lived on United States soil."

Considering immigration as an internal Italian problem, he said that "Italy's greatest wealth is her intelligent and efficient labor. It either must find a way out of the country or be absorbed internally by an ever-increasing industrial development."

Prince Caetani said, Fascism "has kept its promises" and that "more has been accomplished than anyone could have hoped for" in reconstructing the social and economic order.

"Somebody may ask," he continued, "but what is all this rumormongering in the opposition papers? Why such noise? What is wrong?"

"Nothing apparently is wrong. Take a motor car and travel through Italy from one end to the other, and you will find that everywhere life is peaceful, that the people are prosperous and happy."

Labor Conditions in Italy.

"Capital and labor are contented because they both are prosperous. As I said two years ago, Mussolini does not flit with capital or with labor." He has kept true to his principle, and therefore, in all labor troubles both parties, bringing their claims within reasonable limits, have come quickly to an understanding.

"Wages in Northern Italy have reached figures never before recorded. Unemployment, which at the beginning of the Fascist regime affected 600,000 people, today is reduced to 120,000."

He asserted that Premier Mussolini and his followers were decided to see that in Italy the "work

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 12.—Sam A. Baker, elected Governor of Missouri, Nov. 4, literally has taken off his coat and pad and he is studiously figuring out what he thinks about the problems which will confront him when he goes into office early in January.

Just now he is about as communicative as President Coolidge. Baker is not discussing his plans or the recommendations he will have ready for the Legislature.

Aside from conveying the very definite idea that his administration will bend every effort to hard-surface all the roads in the State highway system, and an assertion that he was under no sort of promise to any person or job or politics, little information was obtained from Baker in an interview yesterday.

This is not to be taken as meaning that Baker is without ideas. He is, in fact, a man of ideas, a characteristic which is to weigh every matter from every angle and to refrain from committing himself until he has fully decided exactly what he intends to do.

Studying Up on His Job.

After the election he rented a small room in a Jefferson City office building, put in a desk for himself and one for a stenographer, removed his coat and started in on an inquiry into all sorts of things he thought he ought to know before he under no obligation to give the rest of the year. He is studying the needs of the State and what he thought the Legislature ought to do about it.

"I suppose there are those who expect me to come out immediately with a complete program and that whether I have one or not," he said. "But I am not going to do that. I have been rather busy for a good many months, and while I have in mind a general way of a number of things I think should be done, I have not worked out to my own satisfaction just what I should propose."

"I have no intention of announcing a policy until I have given it the study and the reasonable certainty that I am right and have the information to support my views. I doubt very much if I shall have any public statement made this line until I present my first message to the Legislature."

Good Jobs but Poor Pay.

"One thing I shall conscientiously try to do is to find men who will fill the jobs and the work. In many instances the salary is pitifully small for the work expected, but I have hopes that I can find men and women who will fill the jobs and the work. I will be relieved of a lot of petty detail."

"So far not one position has been promised by me and so far I know by anyone for me. If promises have been made in my name they have been made without authority from me and I am under no obligation to carry them out."

There have been quite a number of reconstruction is carried out to a finish."

Among the guests was Undersecretary of State Grew, who read a message from Secretary of State Hughes, expressing the hope that the "keen sense of personal loss" in the approaching surrender of the Ambassador of his post at Washington.

"Especially do we rejoice," Hughes said in his message, "in the new manifestation of energy and resourcefulness, as she has girded herself with extraordinary unity, vigor and determination to carry out the policy of the State which followed the war and in the high degree of prosperity she has won through the indefatigable industry and skill of her people and her leaders. We send through our friend, Ambassador Caetani, the assurance of our affection for his country, of our admiration for the achievements of his fellow countrymen."

Surplus of Clerks in St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Employment condition in St. Louis and the remainder of the State remained the same during October as in September, although seasonal dullness now obtains in some major industries, the Labor Department reported. "Services announced yesterday."

"There has been a somewhat better call for both skilled and common labor in St. Louis in October over the previous month, but seasonal reduction in employment occurred in the chemical and automobile plants and clothing industries, the report said."

"Building operations are brisk. Demands for farm help are increasing. A surplus of clerical help exists." Regarding the State as a whole, the report said: "Road construction, river work and agricultural requirements are drawing heavily on the common labor supply."

Studying Up on His Job.

After the election he rented a small room in a Jefferson City office building, put in a desk for himself and one for a stenographer, removed his coat and started in on an inquiry into all sorts of things he thought he ought to know before he under no obligation to give the rest of the year. He is studying the needs of the State and what he thought the Legislature ought to do about it.

"I suppose there are those who expect me to come out immediately with a complete program and that whether I have one or not," he said. "But I am not going to do that. I have been rather busy for a good many months, and while I have in mind a general way of a number of things I think should be done, I have not worked out to my own satisfaction just what I should propose."

"I have no intention of announcing a policy until I have given it the study and the reasonable certainty that I am right and have the information to support my views. I doubt very much if I shall have any public statement made this line until I present my first message to the Legislature."

Good Jobs but Poor Pay.

"One thing I shall conscientiously try to do is to find men who will fill the jobs and the work. In many instances the salary is pitifully small for the work expected, but I have hopes that I can find men and women who will fill the jobs and the work. I will be relieved of a lot of petty detail."

"So far not one position has been promised by me and so far I know by anyone for me. If promises have been made in my name they have been made without authority from me and I am under no obligation to carry them out."

There have been quite a number of reconstruction is carried out to a finish."

Among the guests was Undersecretary of State Grew, who read a message from Secretary of State Hughes, expressing the hope that the "keen sense of personal loss" in the approaching surrender of the Ambassador of his post at Washington.

"Especially do we rejoice," Hughes said in his message, "in the new manifestation of energy and resourcefulness, as she has girded herself with extraordinary unity, vigor and determination to carry out the policy of the State which followed the war and in the high degree of prosperity she has won through the indefatigable industry and skill of her people and her leaders. We send through our friend, Ambassador Caetani, the assurance of our affection for his country, of our admiration for the achievements of his fellow countrymen."

Surplus of Clerks in St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Employment condition in St. Louis and the remainder of the State remained the same during October as in September, although seasonal dullness now obtains in some major industries, the Labor Department reported. "Services announced yesterday."

COMMUNITY FUND
BUDGET FOR 1925
PUT AT $1,751,521

Third Annual Campaign to Finance 50 Charities and Social Service Agencies to Begin Friday.

St. Louis and St. Louis County are asked to subscribe $1,751,521 for the 1925 needs of 50 charities and social-service agencies in the Community Fund. The campaign will begin Friday evening, though solicitation will not start until Saturday, and will last till Nov. 24.

Not only does the fund want to raise this money, but it wants as many persons as possible to give. It hence has set the goal of individual subscribers at 125,000. This would mean an average pledge of $14.

This will be the third annual campaign. The goal was $1,495,837, for 1924 needs, was $1,495,837, but the amount raised fell short of that sum by $50,000. The 1923 quota of $1,081,684 was oversubscribed by $70,000.

The amount to be sought this time was determined by the Budget Committee, of which L. Wade Childress is chairman. The Provident Association again leads in the budget, with an allowance of $275,769. The Y. M. C. A. is second, with $123,024, and the St. Louis Chapter of the Red Cross, third, with $100,502. Subscribers to the Community Fund automatically become Red Cross members in that organization's annual roll call.

Harry B. Wallace, general chairman of the fund, described the budgeting work in the following statement: "The Budget Committee made a very careful study of all estimates submitted by the 50 charities and philanthropies in the Community Fund and lopped off nearly $250,000 from the figures as submitted. A study of the work done by the agencies in the past year convinced the committee that a fair increase should be permitted so that increased programs might be provided for. All the agencies reported increased calls for service, the Provident Association being taxed to its utmost.

"As a result of this increased service, some of the organizations were forced to exceed their budget allowances for the year. We expect to make up these deficits and the $50,000 that we failed to obtain last year. In order to do this, it will be necessary for every man and woman in the city and county to contribute as much as he can afford. We must and will reach our goal.

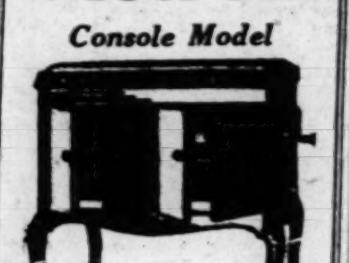

"Included in the 1925 budget is an emergency fund of $85,000, which will be usable in any emergency which confronts any of the organizations or in any disaster, such as big fire or flood."

The campaign will be opened officially on Friday evening when the individual Subscribers Division will meet at Hotel Statler for final instructions. General solicitation will begin the following morning.

The list of the agencies in the 1925 Community Fund, with the budget allowances, an set by the Budget Committee, follows:

Tax Plans for Mellon.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Secretary Mellon has commissioned A. J. Gregg, a special assistant to the Treasurer to make a study of the British system of taxation in the hope that he obtain ideas which will give the Treasurer new information in laying out a program. Gregg will sail Sunday to spend a month or six weeks in England, where he can learn first hand the methods employed in levying and collecting taxes.

YOU know something about the city of Louisville, Kentucky; a city of about 250,000 population; a lot of very fine people there.

You see, in our illustration, a picture of the newly dedicated home of the Elks Lodge in Louisville. The building is as beautiful inside as it looks; it is a "club" in the true sense of the word; restaurants for men and women; gymnasium equipment; handball courts; an indoor golf course; a swimming tank; bowling alleys; a large auditorium seating 1400, with a good stage; the great lodge-room has a fine organ; and on the upper floors rooms where members or visiting Elks can have fine accommodations. The building cost $1,600,000.

You can easily judge the kind of men who would build such a building; they are all members of the B. P. O. Elks.

This is the type of men to whom the Elks Magazine goes; they pay a yearly subscription for it; it reaches their homes. It's the kind of magazine that is welcome in such homes. Advertising in the Elks Magazine reaches and is read by such men and such families.

LAST DEFENDANT IN DECK MURDER CASE ACQUITTED

Renewed Effort for Further Clemency for James Seward, Only Man Convicted in Case, Planned.

FESTUS CITIZENS TO BACK MOVEMENT

Claims in Prisoner's Behalf to Be Presented to State Pardons and Paroles Board Next Month.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HILLSBORO, Mo., Nov. 12.—A renewed effort will be made for clemency for James Seward of St. Louis, who is serving a life term in the State penitentiary, convicted of the murder of Andrew Deck, volunteer prohibition informer, at Herculaneum, Mo., Feb. 23, 1921, as the result of the acquittal here yesterday of Eugene Hayes, the last of six other defendants in the case.

Arguments for Seward.
Albert S. Ennis, Festus attorney, who won freedom for three of the defendants after they were convicted previously, will present claims in Seward's behalf to the State Board of Pardons and Paroles next month. His chief arguments will be the following: Jurors that acquitted the last three defendants did so under instructions from the courts that to find those defendants guilty they must find that Seward was the actual slayer of Deck.

Evidence was presented in these three trials proving that the revolver which the State alleged Seward used to kill Deck was so forceful its bullet would have penetrated Deck's body, whereas the fatal bullet did not pass out of the body.

Testimony at the last trial indicated that the bullet that killed Deck was a trifle smaller than those fired by the weapon alleged to have been used.

Citizens to Back Movement.
Festus business men told Attorney Ennis today that they would back the movement for Seward. The first man tried in the case was Seward and he was sentenced to hang. After a series of dramatic efforts his punishment was commuted to life imprisonment by Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd in the absence of Gov. Hyde. Seward's family reside at 1621 South Third street, St. Louis. He is 43 years old. He denies his guilt strenuously, contending he had meant to beat Deck, but did not have opportunity to do even that, some unknown person firing the fatal shot. Six other men, who were alleged to have hired Seward for $15 to beat Deck for his prohibition activities, were indicted for the murder. They were Ernest Hayes, then of Herculaneum; his sons, Eugene, 25, and Will, 22; Otto and James Thomas, brothers, of Herculaneum, and Elvie Thomas, former Deputy Constable there.

Eugene Hayes twice before had stood trial and been sentenced to hang, but the Supreme Court reversed each decision. It is unusual for a man to be acquitted after two verdicts of death.

Attorney Ennis first appeared in the case for the second trial of Ernest Hayes, in June, 1923, and the latter was acquitted, after a previous death sentence. Will Hayes, who had been given life imprisonment three years ago, was acquitted in a second trial last month. The Thomas brothers, tried together some time ago, were acquitted after two mistrials. Elvie Thomas, not related to them, who turned State's evidence, died Sept. 25 last.

Last of Defendants Acquitted.
The last Eugene Hayes trial began Oct. 27, but was adjourned from Oct. 30 to Nov. 6. The jury deliberated an hour and a half Monday night and from 3 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. yesterday. After the verdict was returned, his brother, Will, ran into the courtroom and embraced and kissed him. For the first time since June, 1921, Eugene was free to move as he chose. He had spent most of the time in the St. Louis jail. He returned last night to St. Louis, where his father resides at 1116 St. Anne avenue, and where Will resides at 4476 Clayton avenue.

The trial was before Circuit Judge Walker of Kennett. R. H. Davis of Fredericktown was special prosecutor.

Bishop Bickley Seriously Ill.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—The Rev. Dr. George H. Bickley, Methodist bishop of Singapore, is seriously ill in a tropical hospital, the result, physicians said today, of an attack of tropical fever. He is suffering from a nervous breakdown and organic heart trouble, and grave fears are entertained for his recovery. Relatives said that Bishop Bickley had not been well since he had the fever and that he was forced to return to his home in this city last spring because of his health.

In 1893, the Mercantile Club building was erected on the site of the Shaw house at Seventh and Locust. Organized in 1881, the purpose of the Club was to bring together St. Louisans engaged in commerce, manufacturing and professional pursuits. The building was picturesquely beautiful with an entrance that evoked general admiration. Unfortunately, this splendid Club decided to end its existence.

The strategic site which the building occupied made it an ideal location for a financial institution. The style and plan of the club structure were unsuitable for banking purposes. Remodeled in 1919, the building became the home of the American Trust Company which occupies it today.

Few locations offer the advantages of immediate convenience as well as Seventh and Locust. The American Trust Company is proud to know that its easy accessibility for its customers and the general public is without a peer in St. Louis.

AMERICAN TRUST COMPANY
CORNER OF SEVENTH & LOCUSTSalesman won't start out without a bottle of REM in grip

Mr. George F. King's office is 816-818 Woolworth Building, New York City, but his home, you might say, is all over the country. For the last 50 years he has been traveling from Coast to Coast and from Canada to the border. REM relieved him of a very bad cough in Pittsburgh. Now he won't travel without it.

As he sat in his Woolworth Building offices he told us how he happened to learn of REM.

"I had started out on one of my cross-continent swings. I had a cough when I left New York. But by the time I got to Pittsburgh it was so bad I just had to get something for it.

"First I tried different cough syrups, then throat lozenges, but nothing I took seemed able to check my cough. I'd be up half the night coughing, and it seemed as if I'd tear my throat out.

"Then a little girl clerk in a drug store told me about REM and how it helped her father's cough when he had one like mine. That girl will never know what a service she did me.

"To say that REM'S the best thing I've ever found anywhere for a cough is the simple truth. I had hardly taken two doses before the tickling was relieved. And soon my cough loosened up, and before long I was my old self again.

"Now I wouldn't travel without REM. Not long ago I sent a bottle to a lady in Cincinnati, and a few days later she wrote me that it was the best cough medicine she'd ever taken."

The surprising popularity of REM for coughs is due very largely to grateful users who have passed the good word along.

REM contains, among other things, a special ingredient (too expensive for old-style, slower-acting cough syrups) that makes it cling to your throat as you swallow. Spreading over the sore, inflamed membranes in a soothing, healing film, it quickly quiets the cough.

REM is pleasant to take. And it contains no Opiates. Your druggist has REM—ask him for it. You can have your money back if it doesn't help you. You're the Judge and Jury.

SEEKS LARGER DAMAGES AFTER PUBLICATION OF INCOME TAX

New York Woman, Blinded by Doctor's Error, Refuses to Accept Original Compromise.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Fannie London, widowed mother of three children, will not accept without protest $3500 for the loss of both her eyes.

In the first court case growing out of the publication of income tax returns, she has given notice, through counsel, that she will reopen her suit for $100,000 against Dr. George B. Ferguson, whom she blames for her blindness.

Last Wednesday, Mrs. London agreed to the smaller amount, on the physician's plea that, though he had been in practice for 30 years, he was without funds, and that his only asset out of which to meet her claim was a malpractice insurance policy.

Much to her surprise, Norton P. S. Schloss, her lawyer, explained yesterday, she was later informed that he had paid $4500 income tax for 1923, indicating that his income was in the neighborhood of $20,000, and she at once decided to ask permission to reopen the case.

The suit against the physician originated in an alleged error committed by him in a diagnosis of Mrs. London's ailment. Mrs. London testified last week that she went to Dr. Ferguson in January, 1921, after suffering severely from headache. He told her, she alleges, that the trouble was with her eyes, and he prescribed belladonna. He had warned her that she would go temporarily blind. Mrs. London said, but when vision failed to return she became alarmed and called in an oculist. She was then told that she would never see again, she declared, adding that the oculist informed her that Dr. Ferguson's error, in diagnosing her ailment as trititis, when in fact it was glaucoma, was responsible for the loss of her vision.

PASTORS HERE URGE COOLIDGE TO WORK FOR WORLD PEACE

A letter signed by the president and secretary of the St. Louis Church Federation, and by a number of leading clergymen here which has been sent to President Coolidge, reads:

"At the Armistice day service held under the auspices of the churches of St. Louis in Christ Church Cathedral, the opinion was expressed by the speaker that you hold a unique position in relation to the movement for the avoidance of future wars; that as President of the United States, now returned to office by the electorate, you have an influence such as has seldom been enjoyed by the ruler of any nation.

"We desire to endorse this opinion and to express the conviction that any step taken by you in the direction of international understandings looking toward world peace will be welcomed by world peoples.

"We believe this opinion and this conviction are shared by the great majority of the church and religious forces of America, and that any endeavor on your part as chief executive toward the accomplishment of world peace will receive their approval and support without regard to political affiliation."

The Rev. Dr. George A. Campbell of Union Avenue Christian Church was the speaker at the Armistice day meeting.

TABLETS OF 7000 B. C. FOUND

Field Museum-Oxford Excavation at Kish Yields Oldest Writings.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The oldest picture-writing on stone tablets ever discovered have been unearthed in the Field Museum-Oxford excavations at Kish, according to an announcement made by the Field Museum today.

The excavators have also determined that the Sumerians, inhabitants of Kish, originated writing by making the first cuneiform characters, according to the announcement. They placed the date of the founding of Kish as prior to 7000 B. C.

37 Years' EXPERIENCE

The big party
she missed

FOR months she had been looking forward to this affair—probably the most gala event of the winter season.

And more than that—the man who was to take her was looked upon as the one real "catch" in her set.

A week before the big night she felt a dry, rasping hitch in her throat. She neglected it and kept right on going.

A few days later her throat was so inflamed she could hardly swallow food. And then a rapidly rising temperature.

The doctor ordered her to bed—and kept her there three days. On the evening she wanted most to feel fit, she was confined to the house like a little old lady—and the others were dancing.

Don't let sore throat throw you out of step with winter pleasures.

Guard against this trouble by taking the simple precaution of using Listerine, the safe antiseptic, as a preventive for throat irritations and the more serious ills that so often follow.

Have Listerine handy always in your bathroom. It is the ideal, safe antiseptic. Its dozens of different uses are fully described in the circular that comes around each bottle.—Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, Saint Louis, U. S. A.

CHANGES IN PIKER LINEUP LIKELY; BILLIKENS FACE OGLETHORPE PLAYS

Two Centers For Game Against Tigers Saturday

Gragg Will Work on Defense and Webster on Offense, Pair Switching as Tacklers.

PRACTICE HELD IN MUD

Well May Miss "Big Game"—1000 Rooters Expected to Make Trip to Columbia.

The Pikers will not be unprepared to play on a wet and muddy field when they meet Missouri at Columbia, Saturday. Yesterday's heavy rain provided the Red and Green warriors with their first opportunity to work under bad weather conditions and the squad welcomed the opportunity to practice in the mud.

The early part of the season was given to defensive practice against forward passes. The Tigers have a strong passing combination which contributed largely to their victory over Ames and Oklahoma, and the Pikers are working to break it up. Whitman to Jackson is the Tigers' favorite combination, although Fullback Faurt passes occasionally and the ends do their share of the receiving.

Scout Shows Tiger Plays. A short signal drill in the rain concluded the outdoor work and after the players had dressed, a long "skull" session was held in the dressing room. Assistant Coach Davis, who coached the Tiger victory over Oklahoma last week, showed the boys the plays Missouri ran on for most of its yardage.

Dr. Eber Simpson then spoke to the team about good defenses against forward passes and expounded quite a bit of "condition strategy" which he thought might be of value to the players. Dr. Simpson has been a big asset to the newly appointed Advisory Committee. His experience as one of the country's leading quarterbacks and as a football coach has given him a complete knowledge of the game and his personality and ability to impart his knowledge to others. His explanation of plays and tactics has been of much help in preparing the Pikers for their biggest test of the year.

Changes in Line-up Likely. There will probably be several important changes in the Piker lineup for the Missouri battle. The center job will be handled by two players. Gragg will work as defensive center and offensive tackle and Fred Webster will operate as offensive center and defensive tackle. Under this arrangement the Pikers hope to make the best use of these two stellar line-men. On the defense, Gragg's greater experience makes him more valuable in backing up the line while Webster's familiarity with the center berth and his fine passing will be needed on the attack.

The other tackle position is the one which is now giving coaches some concern. Paul Well was injured in scrimmage Monday and may not be able to play. In that event Joe Herbert, who has hitherto performed in the backfield, will probably work at tackle with Max Starkloff ready to go in when needed. Herbert will not be lost playing on the line. He weighs about 175 pounds, has had some line experience and is very cool and aggressive.

Goosing and Avis at Ends. Goosing and Avis will start at the ends with Matern and Nicmoeller waiting to relieve them. Herb Kurus and Karl Neupauer who has recovered from his injury will start at guard. Ingamella, who is still suffering from an injury and Joe Herck, both veterans, will be available.

The same backfield that played through the Milliken game will start against the Tigers. Oscar Burch, who seems to improve every day, will work at quarter. Charley Levy will play at fullback and the backfield berths will be filled by Sammy Ploun and Capt. Walsh. Al Hayes, Marty Lyle and Jimmy Ingram, all of whom have been handicapped by injuries, are again in good condition and will probably play in the game.

More than 1000 Washington students and alumni are expected to journey to Columbia for the game. In addition to a special train which leaves St. Louis Friday afternoon, there will be reduced rates for the trip both Friday and Saturday.

Jimmy Gory Wins. Special to the Post-Dispatch. VIRGINIA, Nov. 12.—Jimmy Gory of St. Louis defeated Al Vanryen in 10 rounds here last night.

Amateur Ring Board in Charge Of Show Tonight

A. A. U. Registration Committee Ready to Discipline Those Who Break Rules.

The first boxing show to be held under the supervision of the newly appointed Registration Committee of the Western A. A. U. will be held this evening at the First Regiment Armory, Grand boulevard and Market street. All of the regulations governing amateur bouts will not be strictly enforced this evening because of the fact that the program had been arranged and advertised by the Business Men's A. C. several days before the new commission began to function.

Dr. C. M. Westerman, member of the committee, will supervise the details of weighing in and will examine the contestants. The committee will be prepared to suspend any boxer who fails to appear for his bout without giving satisfactory reasons.

Pittsburg Boxer in Headliner. A flyweight bout in which Mike Sansone, western district A. U. champion, will oppose Joe Butler of Pittsburg, Pa., will be the main attraction. Six "special" events have been booked and 25 other entries have been received, according to Matchmaker Harry Cook. In the future the commission will permit no "special matches."

Special Matches. FLYWEIGHT CLASS—Mike Sansone, Pittsburg, Mo. vs. Joe Butler, Pittsburg, Pa. 100-POUND CLASS—Eddie O'Neal, South Broadway A. C. vs. Tom Piro, South Broadway A. C.

FEATHERWEIGHT CLASS—Eddie Goldner, National A. C. vs. Louis Terry, South Broadway A. C. LIGHTWEIGHT CLASS—Jimmy Little, Ferguson, Mo. vs. Jack Horner, National A. C.

MIDDLEWEIGHT CLASS—Victor Windt, Sherman Park C. C. vs. Ed Duffy, South Broadway A. C. HEAVYWEIGHT CLASS—Robert Kerr, Carlsbad, Mo. vs. Joe Young, Tower A. C.

PRELIMINARY ENTRIES. 100-POUND CLASS—Sam Benson, Mulan, Mo. vs. C. Carson Dunn, Tower A. C. FRED HAGEMAN ELECTED PIKER TRACK CAPTAIN Fred Hageman was yesterday elected captain of Washington University's track team for the coming year. Hageman made a splendid showing last year as a high jumper. It was his first year of varsity competition. He tied for third in the conference indoor meet, took fourth in a strong field at the Kansas regatta and placed first in dual meets with Vanderburgh, Holla, and Mississippi University. With his added experience Hageman is expected to do even better this year.

St. Louis U. Team Stops Freshmen In Practice Drill

Southern's Style Fails to Fool Savage's Regulars—Work Against Passes Today.

OVERCONFIDENCE FEARED

Coaches to Try to Prevent Spoiling of Record as in Past Seasons.

The St. Louis University eleven had its first foretaste yesterday of the offensive of the Oglethorpe University team of Atlanta, Ga., which calls here Saturday for the only college game of the day on the local card. The formations were simulated by the Billiken freshmen, and the varsity defense, which stopped the heavy Michigan Aggies last week, did likewise to the efforts of the speedy frosh.

Yesterday's practice session was held in the morning to leave the field open for an afternoon soccer attraction.

The Oglethorpe line plays are somewhat like the Notre Dame style, with shifts and double shifts and lots of other tricks. Today the freshmen will use the Southern's serial attack and Savage will coach the backs in knocking down passes. Signal drill, as yesterday, will take up the rest of the time.

The coaches are guarding against overconfidence among the players in regard to Saturday's game. Many seasons' records in the past have been ruined by this. Last year St. Xavier sprang a surprise victory and the year before Grinnell took the Billiken's measure after the locals had put up a great fight against Notre Dame. Going back another year, it was the Drury Panthers who spoke the St. Louis of offense and won by a touchdown. Oglethorpe is strong and the men are being made to realize it.

OGLETHORPE IS READY FOR BILLIKEN GAME

By the Associated Press. ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 12.—Oglethorpe University, holding victories over Sewanee of the Southern Conference and others of the S. I. A. A., is ready to leave on its invasion of the Middle West to meet St. Louis University Saturday. The Patriots, led by the flashy Adrian Maurer, are hoping to successfully cope with their interstate foes.

RICKEY READY TO STAND PAT ON HIS TEAM, PITCHERS EXCEPTED

Field to Rank With the Finest, Manager Asserts

Little Trading This Winter, as Far as Cardinals Are Concerned.

TEST FOR PLACES

Men After Short and Third Base Jobs—Signing Hopes by Is Deferred.

By J. Roy Stockton.

Branch Rickey, baseball manager of the Cardinals all the year round, this winter has had time to think about the team. He took advantage of the off-season Monday, but ground was too dry, his setter's foot and last night he was in St. Louis and had time to think about the team.

Oh, yes. But, really, Rickey, in putting off the business of the club until the time comes, is not being too cautious. Especially as he is trying to stand pat on our team.

Of course I always have interest in my club at heart. The business—let that wait till the time comes. Rickey, but not now. Especially as he is trying to stand pat on our team.

Famous Winning Football Plays—No. 27

SHAUGHNESSY'S MCGILL REVERSE PLAY.

ACCURATE handling of the ball is the secret of this baffling reverse play and lateral pass by Coach Frank Shaughnessy of McGill University.

The lineup is from a balanced line with the backs in

Guards, 5 and 6, come out of line and head to the right, followed by No. 2 with the ball.

No. 2 passes laterally, before being tackled, to No. 3, who should be in close. No. 3 goes a short distance and passes laterally to No. 4, the outside back, who should have a clear path.

Tiger Regulars To Face Pikers

Missouri Squad in Good Condition for Valley Contest Saturday.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 12.—Increasing their practice pace and lengthening the period of the daily workout, the University of Missouri Tigers are driving ahead at full speed this week in preparation for the game with Washington University of St. Louis here Saturday.

The Monday night scrimmage can probably be accounted for in two ways—first because of the anxiety of the Bengal coaches lest Washington repeat its achievement of last year, when the reputedly weak Pikers slipped a victory over Missouri, and second, because of the good condition in which the men came out of their game at Norman, Ok., last Saturday.

This week, the first in nearly a month that the Bengals will be able to remain at home for real practice periods tomorrow and Friday, is expected to show a marked advance in the development of the Missouri aggregation. Aside from Castiel, whose dislocated shoulder will not let him get back into the game before Thanksgiving day, if then, the squad is in good shape.

The same lineup which started at Oklahoma—Walsh and Bacchus, ends; Van Dyne and Lindenmeyer, tackles; Palermo and Lewis, guards; Smith, center; Jackson, quarterback; Bond and Whiteman, halfbacks, and Faurat at fullback—will start against the Pikers.

Of course, if the Bengal defense hits its stride early in the game and is able to acquire a substantial lead in the first periods, the reserves will undoubtedly be given an opportunity.

Berlenbach-Marullo BOUT IS CALLED OFF

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The 12-round match slated between Paul Berlenbach, New York light heavyweight, and Tony Marullo of New Orleans at Madison Square Garden Friday night, was called off yesterday after an injury Berlenbach sustained to his left hand in training.

Berlenbach went before the State Athletic Commission's physician for an examination to determine the extent of his mishap, but in the meantime Promoter Tex Rickard announced cancellation of the fight. Efforts were being made to obtain another opponent for Marullo.

ST. TERESA TEAM WINS FROM BRANNIGANS, 2-1

The St. Teresas defeated the Brannigans, 2 to 1, and the Newstead-Natural Bridge team won from the Holy Innocent Church team, 5 to 0, in the charity soccer double-header played at St. Louis University Field yesterday afternoon. Rain halted the second game late in the second half and the Brannigan team therefore was not decisively beaten.

Proceeds from the attraction went to the Carmelite Sisters.

Yale-Princeton Game to Decide 'Big Three' Title

Eli Considered Certain Victor Over Harvard if Team Defeats Tigers Saturday.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The meeting of the Bulldog and the Tiger, principals in the oldest football rivalry in America, in the Palmyer Memorial Stadium at Princeton Saturday in the forty-eighth annual renewal of this ancient classic, will be the outstanding event of the week in the football world.

Yale, undefeated in 1923 and still undefeated this season, faces in Princeton a team which reached the height of its power against Harvard last week and appears to be now riding on the crest of a wave of triumph despite an unimpressive start.

The Tigers, defeated by Notre Dame, and tied by Lehigh, will enter the game an even choice as the result of their victory over Harvard at Cambridge last Saturday, 34 to 0.

Yale Tied Twice.

Yale's record is a bit more impressive than that of Princeton because the Eli has yet to feel defeat, despite two tie games with Dartmouth and West Point.

The "Big Three" championship probably will be at stake in Saturday's game, as it is figured that Yale will subdue its Crimson rival when they meet in the Yale bowl Nov. 25.

Like Princeton, Yale has the punch and ability to cash in on its strength in the waning moments of a close game, as was demonstrated against Dartmouth. The Eli was fortunate to hold the powerful Army team to a tie, Pond's 48-yard dash for a touchdown giving the Blue the count which enabled it to break even with its service rival.

Eddie Held Ranked Tenth Among Country's Amateur Golfers

Bobby Jones Tops Unofficial List With Von Elm Second, Johnston Third, Cochran Fourth and Oulmet Fifth—Manion, T-M Champion, Not Mentioned.

By Ray McCarthy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—In ranking the ten leading amateur golfers of the United States for 1924, one thing is certain, and that is Bobby Jones should be placed at the very top of the list. The Atlanta star covers the field of amateurs like a blanket—more completely, in fact, than Hagen tops the professionals.

Jones' record is a more forceful argument than any kind of a story that might be written on the subject. Although Bobby lost his title as national open champion this year, his record, embellished by his victory in the national amateur championship, is more brilliant than ever, and is now quite complete in the matter of American tournament victories.

Von Elm Gets Second Place.

It is more difficult to select the nine others. In view of his fine showing in the national amateur championship, as well as his play in the various tournaments on the Pacific Coast, the past season George von Elm, the aggressive Los Angeles golfer, is placed in second position. Von Elm is not in Jones' class, as a golfer, but he is improving all the time and is sure to be heard from in future championships.

Jimmy Johnston, because of his impressive victory in the Western amateur championship, in which he defeated a lot of strong opposition with a grand display of golf, is ranked third.

From here on the problem of selecting the next seven players becomes more intricate, but considering the results of the important tournaments, it is not unjust to place D. Clark Cochran of Philadelphia and Baltimore in fourth position. Cochran gave a fine exhibition in the gold masher tournament at Newport when he defeated a select field of stars in 12 holes of medal play with a score of 300. He continued his good work in the early part of the national amateur, setting a new record in the qualifying rounds. And he might have gone a long distance had he not encountered Bobby Jones in the second round. But Bobby was forced to play the best he knew how to win by 3 and 2.

Francis Oulmet fifth. In the list, went to the semifinal round again in the national championship, he won his match in the Walker cup contests by coming from behind against Storey with the best exhibition of golf of that particular day, and he was also on the winning end in the four-some with Jesse Guilford as his partner.

Max Marston did not win any major tournament this year, but during the latter part of the season he showed his mettle as amateur title holder in the gold masher tournament, the Walker cup matches and the national championship.

Young Dexter Cummings is the writer's choice for seventh position. He won the intercollegiate championship again for the second consecutive time and made a grand showing in the national amateur. He has improved considerably.

Jesse Guilford, Rudy Knepper and Eddie Held are named eighth, ninth and tenth places respectively. Their showing in the major tournaments is better than that of any three others who might be selected.

Granger Rough Cut

A Pointer on Tobacco—The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it smokes, the more it is "cut" to "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to "cut". Granger is slow and cool—cut for pipes, smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste. LACKEY & MITTS TOBACCO CO.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Men-the-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place. Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness. You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Men-the-Sulphur at any drug store.

IMPPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown face," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 35c.

STOP ITCHING SKIN

Zemo, the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Gives Prompt Relief

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and that cleanses and soothes the skin. Soon after the first application of Zemo you will find that irritations, Pimples, Blackheads, Eczema, Itches, Ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

Zemo is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy. It is a non-greasy, disappearing liquid that may be applied during the day. Trial bottle 35c, large size $1.00. Zemo Soap, antiseptic and healing, 25c.

AMERICAN EMBASSY IN TOKIO TO BE REBUILT

Announcement Gratifies U. S. Residents; New Building to Cost $1,000,000.

By Radio to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1934. TOKIO, Nov. 12.—The approach of the year end, when, according to custom, outstanding bills must be paid, is causing no small apprehension among the banks and leading business firms. The Government is broadcasting warnings against extravagance and the necessity for preparation against the threatened danger of a financial crisis early in 1935 unless the people realize the actual situation.

The finance and home departments have issued thousands of posters drawing attention to an imperial rescript issued after the earthquake urging thrift. Special dispatches from Washington announce that the American Government intends to expend more than a million dollars upon the new American Embassy in Tokyo. This announcement gratifies the American residents, who are chagrined by the absence of any effort even to clean up the devastated American area in Tokyo which continues to be an eye sore.

A becoming temporary structure is being erected upon the old site of the grounds occupied by the British Ambassador and the German Embassy has been almost completely restored.

The Chauvinist newspapers continue to discover, "a challenge or menace to Japan" in the proposed American naval maneuvers in the Pacific also in the British Singapore Naval Base which they assert the conservatives will revive if it is carried out. The Conservative element on the contrary however, asserts that both the maneuvers and the Singapore base are rather calculated to insure safety and greater economy for Japan.

The highest navy authorities say Japan, which has just concluded its annual maneuvers against a hypothetical adversary and mythical force which included the best in modern naval warfare, drawn from Britain and America, similarly believes the American maneuvers must be against a combination far exceeding anything Japan can at present produce.

Dispatches representing the Japanese as being concerned over these natural navy activities they denounce as the purest propaganda, which while creating suspicions and uneasiness in some elements, are too small to alarm the Japanese naval authorities or the Government.

Lovers New York-Havana Record. By the Associated Press. HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 11.—The Ward Line Orizaba arrived here yesterday from New York in 63 hours and 23 minutes, making a new record for speed on the New York-Havana route. It was announced by the line.

Dolly Olive is a walking, talking, rolling-eye beauty. Life-like, pretty and sturdy, she has been rightly called.

'The Doll, Supreme'

Dolly Olive's Bed is unusual, too. It's a real Bed, with real springs and mattress—an exact duplicate, in miniature, of the full-size famous Smith Davis Beds. 20 inches long, 15 inches high at the head and 12 inches at the foot; enameled in white, blue or pink, it is at once a dainty and durable Bed, worthy in every way of the exceptional Dolly, that will grace it.

To the subscriber: If you are already a Post-Dispatch reader—regularly buying this newspaper on the street or having delivery made at home, DO NOT sign in this space arranged above for NEW subscriptions. To do so, will only result in disappointment to the child who presents this order blank.

All subscriptions received under this offer will be investigated as to validity of the order and the subscriber's responsibility.

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to accept or reject any subscription order at its option.

None will be accepted from persons identified with the delivery or sale of the Post-Dispatch nor for delivery in the territory lying between Cass Avenue and Chouteau Avenue, and between the Mississippi River and Grand Avenue, in St. Louis.

All St. Louis awards of Dolls and Doll Beds will be delivered at the office of the Post-Dispatch, Twelfth and Olive Streets.

Delivery of out-of-town awards will be made through local news-dealers or sent by mail, prepaid, to R. F. D. addresses.

IMPORTANT: This new Dolly Olive and Her Dainty Bed offer is entirely apart from the Janeville Wagon-Sherwood Racer offer for four subscriptions. While both offers are exceptional in terms of generous value, they must not be confused in the minds of our boy and girl friends, and we cannot consent to transfer of credits based upon subscription orders from one plan to the other.

Subscriptions received here under the terms of the Janeville Wagon-Sherwood Racer offer will not be credited toward a Dolly Olive-Dainty Bed award, nor vice versa.

CREAM CLEARS A STUFFED-UP HEAD

Instantly Opens Every Air Passage—Clears Throat

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed because of nasal catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing and healing swollen, inflamed membranes, and you get instant relief. Try this. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Your clogged nostrils open right up; your head is clear; no more yawning or sniffling. Count fifty. All the stuffiness, dryness, struggling for breath is gone. You feel fine.

None will be accepted from persons identified with the delivery or sale of the Post-Dispatch nor for delivery in the territory lying between Cass Avenue and Chouteau Avenue, and between the Mississippi River and Grand Avenue, in St. Louis.

All St. Louis awards of Dolls and Doll Beds will be delivered at the office of the Post-Dispatch, Twelfth and Olive Streets.

Delivery of out-of-town awards will be made through local news-dealers or sent by mail, prepaid, to R. F. D. addresses.

MAN ACCUSED BY WIFE WHO ORDERED HUSBAND FLOGGED

Neighbor of Miami War Veteran Arrested—Wife's Confession Implicates Others.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 12.—Louis Martin is under arrest on a charge of conspiracy as a result of information obtained from Mrs. Hugo Hubsch, also under arrest, regarding flogging of her husband Nov. 6, by a band of masked men. Martin has been proprietor of a pressing establishment adjoining the Hubsch drug store at Cocanut Grove.

Mrs. Hubsch, who has confessed she instigated the flogging because her husband, a veteran of the World War, had offended her, was in so serious a mental condition last night that she was taken to a hospital, being released from jail on a bond of $1000. Her husband is a patient in the same hospital, suffering from injuries received at the hands of the whipping party.

The Sheriff's office says other arrests will be made today. For some time there has been trouble in the Hubsch household, and several weeks ago Mrs. Hubsch chased her husband with a shotgun, according to Cocanut Grove police.

Divorce proceedings were started and Hubsch left town, being sent away by his friends in the local American Legion post. For some reason, as yet unexplained, his wife sent for him, feigning reconciliation, and Hubsch returned home last Wednesday.

The next night he was kidnapped and flogged.

Mrs. Hubsch had recently acquired the controlling interest in the drug store, and in her confession, she said that she thought the kidnapers would scare her husband so that he would leave the entire business to her and would leave the community never to return.

PATROLMAN INVOLVED IN TWO AUTO CRASHES IS SUSPENDED
Arthur Adams Is Relieved From Duty Because of His Failure to Report Accidents.

Probationary Patrolman Arthur Adams of the Magnolia District was suspended last night when it became known he had failed to report two automobile accidents in which he was involved on Nov. 4 and had fled from the scene of one.

On that date Leo W. Versen of 3423 Montana avenue reported that a Paige automobile had wrecked his Ford, parked at Bates street near Putnam, and that the driver had sped away. The license number led to Max Clausen, Adams' roommate, residing on South Grand boulevard.

Clausen said Adams had left him and another man in a saloon on Michigan avenue and had driven away in the machine, just before the accident occurred.

When questioned about this, Adams admitted he had later been in another accident in which the Paige machine and a truck were both demolished at Boyle and Manchester avenues. The negro driver of the truck, when found, said he had not reported the affair because the driver of the Paige said he was a "Policeman Tucker" and exhibited a badge.

Adams is said to have left his home early Monday afternoon, and when he failed to return a search for him was begun. The son had been watching the river for several hours with a policeman, and on seeing a body floating down stream, they set out in a boat and recovered it. Walker was unable to explain his father's death.

SON FINDS BODY OF FATHER IN RIVER AFTER LONG VIGIL Remains of Fred A. Walker, Who Disappeared Monday, Is Discovered Floating Down Stream.

The body of Fred A. Walker, 58 years old, of 514 Lookout drive, St. Louis county, was taken from the Mississippi River at 9000 north at 1 p. m. yesterday by Walker's son, Fred A. Walker Jr., and a patrolman.

Walker is said to have left his home early Monday afternoon, and when he failed to return a search for him was begun. The son had been watching the river for several hours with a policeman, and on seeing a body floating down stream, they set out in a boat and recovered it. WOMAN SAYS SLAIN DIAMOND MAN HAD RIVAL FOR HER LOVE

Los Angeles Police Try to Find if Katz Case Has Any Relation to Diamond Smuggling.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—A telephone call to the identity of the person who on Monday shot and killed Harry I. Katz, musician and collector of diamonds, is being followed by the police today. The clue developed during questioning of Miss Dorothy Carroll, 22 years old, friend of the slain man, according to the Los Angeles Examiner. Miss Carroll says the paper, told the police she was the object of bitter rivalry between Katz and another man, whose name is withheld, and that, after the slaying, a telephone message came to her from this man warning her to "tell the police nothing" and threatening her with death if she assented.

The man crossed Katz in business as well as in love. Miss Carroll is quoted as saying, "She also revealed that Katz was laboring under great fear several days before his death. Other friends of the slain man have stated he was greatly worried over money; that he was hard pressed to pay some debt on other grounds, and was in numerous transactions, practically all of which involved diamonds."

Katz was never, it seemed, short of cash. He used the precious stones to buy real estate, automobiles, race victories and antiques. He borrowed money and gave gems as security; borrowed more money to buy more gems.

In an effort to learn what, if any, connection there might be between Katz' numerous diamonds, his slaying, and certain underground traffic in smuggled jewels, the police plan to open a safe deposit box in a Los Angeles bank where the diamond dealer is reported to have concealed part of his hoard of precious gems.

MUST RECOGNIZE RUSSIA TO REBUILD EUROPE, SAYS BORAH Can't Help Matters By Sitting on the Sidelines, the Senator Declares.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 12.—Senator Borah of Idaho, speaking here last night before the committee of the State Council of Republican Women, declared he did not believe the reconstruction of Europe could be effected except by the recognition of Russia by the United States.

Emphasizing that he was "speaking for myself alone," Borah said that he did "not believe it possible to have disarmament, open markets or settled economic questions in Europe without first settling the Russian problem."

"I am aware," he said, "of opposition in this country to recognition of Russia as long as they have a communistic government. I do not believe in communism myself. But with six or seven years gone by under that form of government and with every other large nation recognizing Russia, how are we going to help matters by sitting on the sidelines and withholding moral leadership?"

"We must recognize the struggle which is going on there to arrive at a safe and sane democracy, and we must consider the 148,000,000 people whom we are now outlawing there. We need have little fear of the propaganda which Russia is said to be sending to America if we give clean, effective government; honest administration and reduced taxes in this country."

America will not enter the League of Nations or "any other political alliance in Europe," but will continue "separate conferences on economic questions in discharging our serious obligations to Europe," he said.

Agricultural relief, he predicted, would be effected by tax reduction and "simplification of a bureaucratic form of government to as few bureaus at Washington as possible."

GIVES UP AUTO AFTER LEARNING IT WAS STOLEN
Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LINN, Mo., Nov. 12.—The second trial of former State Senator Tillman W. Anderson of Commerce, Mo., on a charge of stealing a typewriter and a dictionary from the Legislature at Jefferson City, was begun here today before Circuit Judge R. A. Breuer. A jury was impaneled in an hour and hearing of evidence begun. Anderson was tried here on the same charge last June, but the result was a mistrial. At the time of his arrest Anderson said that the property had been loaned him temporarily by a State officer.

PARIS CROWDS DEEPLY IMPRESSED BY PARADE OF WAR VETERANS

Many Join March to Forward Test at Small Penitentiary.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—A pageantry, perhaps the most popular rejoicings mingled with the celebrations of Armistice day in Paris. Apart from the official demonstration in front of the town hall, the feature of the day was a pathetic procession of cripples through the city, the Champs Elysees and around the Arc, through which their comrades paraded in triumph on Bastille day, 1919.

This procession was a spectacle against the small pensions given cripples, but it was a spectacle of horrors, in strong contrast to the glamour of the earlier parade of triumph.

One remnant of a man, weak and legless, a mere trunk, was carried on his wife's shoulders. Other plodded with his one remaining arm a kind of crutch. The crowd, the pilot steered out on his face, had to be picked up like an infant.

Then came a thousand blind soldiers, led by their wives. The crowds that watched were deeply and painfully pressed. Many joined the procession to march to the Foreign Office and stand in protest against what they regarded as betrayal of the armistice's promise to war veterans.

SALOONKEEPER FINED $300 FOR HAVING TWO PINTS OF BEER
Man Pleads Guilty and Gets Second Offense.

Possession of two pints of brewed beer cost William Delahar, saloonkeeper, $300 when he pleaded guilty in Federal Court today. The heavy fine was assessed by Judge Faris because it was a second offense, Delahar having been fined $250 on a liquor charge in October, 1921. The two bottles of beer were found in his home. Delahar, a member of Holy Name Society of St. Louis, was fined $300.

So Big

Edna Ferber

THIRTY-NINE

THE following autumn saw him a student of architecture at Cornell. He worked hard, studied even during his vacations. He would come home to the heat and humidity of the Illinois summers and spend hours each day in his own room that he had fitted up with a long work table and a drawing board. His T-square was at hand; two triangles—a 45 and a 60; his compass; a pair of dividers. Selma sometimes stood behind him watching him as he carefully worked on the tracing paper. His contempt for the local architecture was now complete. Especially did he hold forth on the subject of the apartment houses that were mushrooming on every street in Chicago from Hyde Park on the south to Evanston on the north. Chicago was very elegant in speaking of these; never called them "flats," always apartments. In front of each of these (there were usually six to a building) was stuck a little glass-enclosed cubicle known as a sun parlor. In these (sometimes you heard them spoken of, grandly, as solariums) Chicago dwellers took refuge from the leaden skies, the heavy lake atmosphere, the gray mist and fog and smoke that so frequently swathed the city in gloom. They were done in yellow or rose cretonnes. Silk lamp shades glowed therein, and flower-laden boxes. In these frank little boxes Chicago read its paper, sewed, played bridge, even ate its breakfast. It never pulled down the shades.

"Terrible," Dirk fumed. "Not only are they hideous in themselves, stuck on the front of these houses like three pairs of spectacles; but the lack of decent privacy! They do everything but bathe in 'em. Have they never heard the advice given people who live in glass houses?"

By his junior year he was talking in a large way about the Beaux Arts. But Selma did not laugh at this. "Perhaps," she thought. "Who can tell? After a year or two in an office here, why not another year of study in Paris if he needs it?"

Though it was her busiest time on the farm Selma went to Illinois for his graduation in 1913. He was 22 and, she was solemnly sure, the best-looking man in his class. Undoubtedly he was a figure to please the eye: tall, well-built, as his father had been, and blond, too, like his father, except for his eyes. These were brown—not so dark as Selma's, but with some of the soft liquid quality of her glance. They strengthened his face, somehow; gave him an ardent look of which he was not conscious. Women, feeling the order of that dark glance turned upon them, were likely to credit him with feelings toward themselves of which he was quite innocent. They did not know that the glance and its effect were mere matters of pigmentation and eye-conformation. Then, too, the gaze of a man who talks little is always more effective than that of one who is loquacious.

Selma, in her black silk dress, and her plain black hat, and her sensible shoes was rather a quaint little figure amongst all these vivacious, bearded, and bearded men. But a distinctive little figure, too. Dirk need not be ashamed of her. She eyed the rather paunchy, prosperous, middle-aged fathers and thought, with a pang, how much handsomer Pervus would have been than any of these, if only he could have lived to see this day. Then, involuntarily, she wondered if this day would ever have occurred, had Pervus lived. Chided herself for thinking thus.

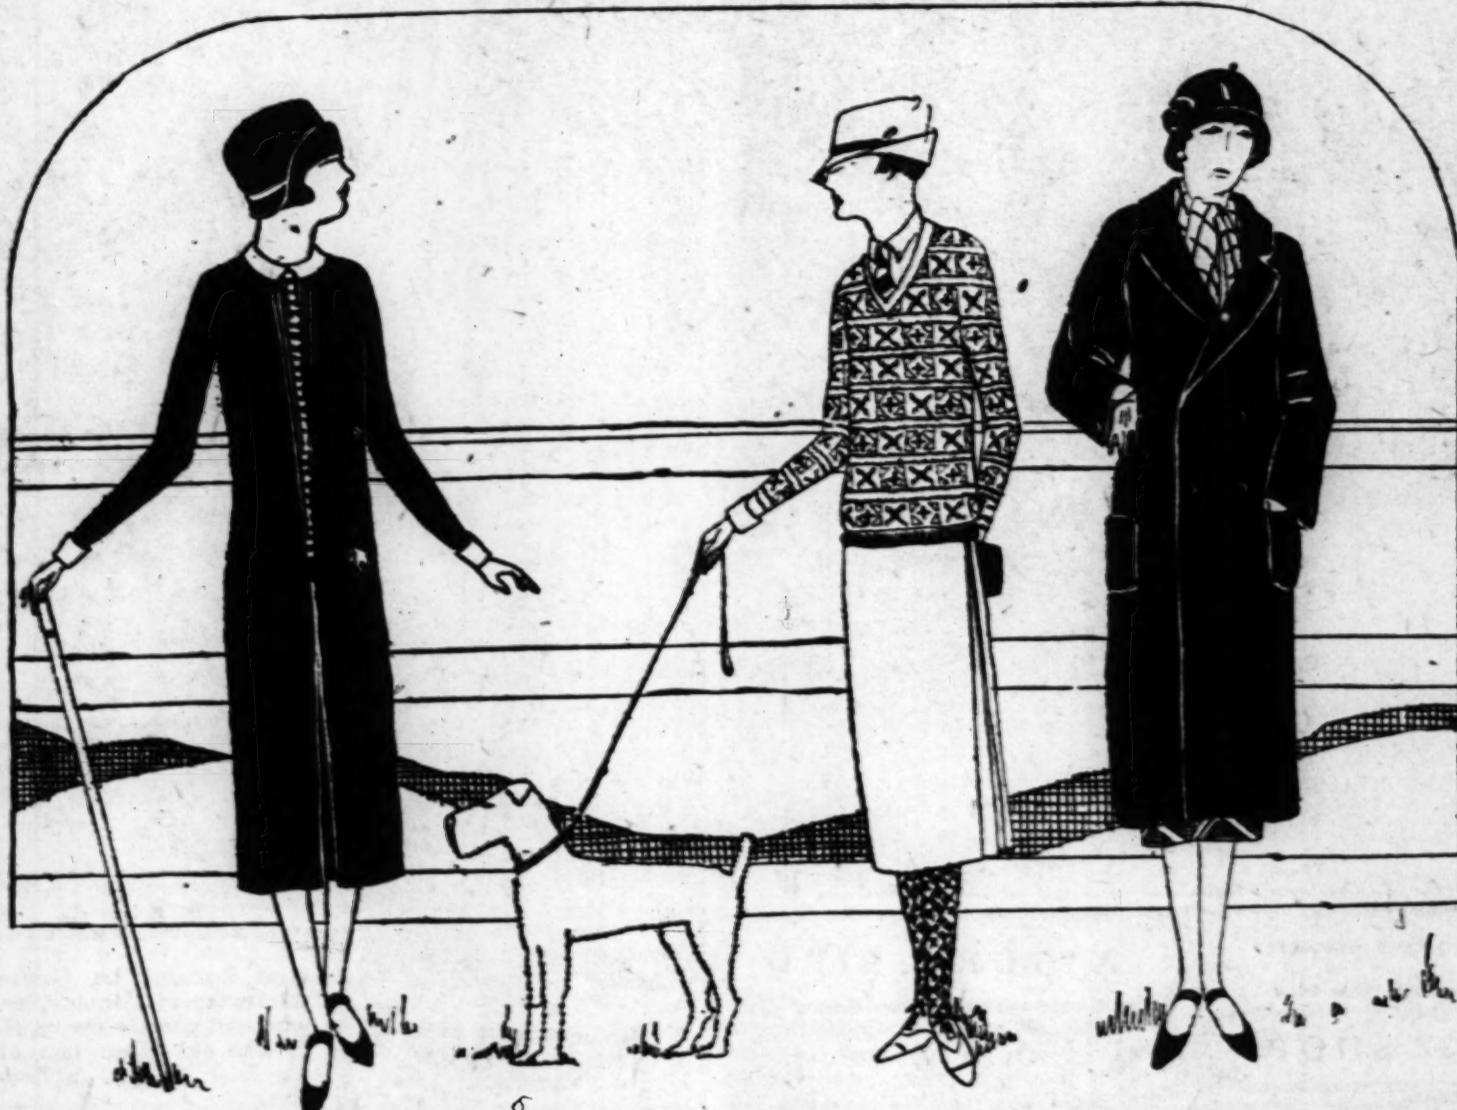

When he returned to Chicago, Dirk went into the office of Helms & Sprague, Architects. He thought himself lucky to work with this firm, for it was doing much to guide Chicago's taste in architecture away from the box car. Already Michigan boulevard's skyline soared somewhat above the grimy horizontal. But his work there was little more than that of draughtsman, and his weekly stipend could hardly be dignified by the term of salary. But he had large ideas about architecture and he found expression for his suppressed feelings on his week-ends spent with Selma at the farm. "Baroque" was the word with which he dismissed the new Beachside Hotel, north. He said the new Lincoln Park band stand looked like an igloo. He said that the City Council ought to order the Potter Palmer mansion destroyed as a blot on the landscape, and waxed profane on the subject of the east face of the Public Library Building, downtown.

"Never mind," Selma assured him, happily. "It was all thrown up so hastily. Remember that just yesterday, or the day before, Chicago was an Indian fort, with teepees where towers are now, and mud wallows in place of asphalt. Beauty needs time to perfect it. Perhaps we've been waiting all these years for just such youngsters as you. And maybe some day I'll be driving down Michigan to meet a distinguished visitor—himself. Fool, perhaps. Why not? Let's say Rudolf Peol, the famous sculptor. And he'll say, 'This

The Sports Wardrobe Complete

Correct Clothes for the Country Give as Much Scope for Taste With Comfort as Do Swell City Togs

By ANNE VAN BUREN BROWN.

CORRECT clothes for the country are even more of an indication of taste than clothes for town wear. Fashion in this field changes less than in others, and innovations of any sort are accepted gingerly.

The sketches on this page show accepted costumes which will wear this fall and winter—the newest skirt, the most swagger topcoat, the type of blouse most in favor at the present time—yet they all are conservative and practicable workmanlike garments which justly will find themselves in the wardrobe of the well-dressed sportsman.

The topcoat is as nearly masculine as possible, with its deep pockets, belted back and double-breasted fastening. Many of these coats are lined in plaid or kasha cloth to increase their warmth. Occasionally a devotee of the ensemble idea will match her sports frock to the lining of her topcoat. Soft cashmere scarfs of gay stripes or plaids usually add a note of color, which may be repeated in the small felt hat invariably worn with country clothes.

The very smartest sport frocks this year are of kasha or that very soft variety of jersey cloth which the French use year after year.

The frock at the upper left-hand corner is significant because of its inverted front pleat, which is very new and practical, and because of its high turned-down collar and gilet of fine white pique.

The Fair Isle sweater continues to be much worn, and very soft wool stockings of the same pattern may be procured at the more exclusive specialty shops carrying sports apparel. A new and decidedly smart skirt, made to be worn with sweaters and blouses of this type, is of kasha cloth, its three side pleats affording a desirable width while preserving the beaming straight line. Skirts, by the way, are from 10 to 13 inches from the ground for country clothes.

The fashion for colored shirts is one more steal from our brothers. The one in the small left-hand sketch is a feminine adaptation of one of the latest English shirts to arrive in this country. The starched bosom with its wide pleats, the stiff long-pointed collar, and the turned-back starched cuffs all are decidedly in its favor. Peel of London, the most famous bootmaker in the world, made the "brogues" in the sketch below. They are of Scotch grain leather, with unusual cutouts and no tongue.

Slip-on gloves of chenille or an- telope are most often worn with country clothes because of their comfort and practicality. Many of these are washable. A loosely fitting glove of this sort, moreover, possesses surprising warmth.

A NEW IDEA IN EDUCATION

By Wm. A. McKeever

Lecturer and Writer on Topics of Sociological Interest.

INQUIRE carefully of your child and you will find that he is unconsciously behaving with reference to some particular person.

It is the distinctively "new education" to affirm goodness and self-reliance and virtues of every-day behavior in form of simple phrase and maxim. Even the parents themselves—all adults of serious purpose—will find by analysis that they are guided more or less in their daily behavior by reference to the opinions of one or a very few. Ask yourself, dear parent, who this secret molding of your life is, whom most of all you live for. Then apply the principle intelligently to your child.

Repeated statements of confidence, trust and of anticipated performance of a definite nature—that is the secret of gradually bringing your child into the habit of living for you and for the ideals which you would set up for him.

"What would mother say?" and "What would father say?" should be so firmly impressed in the thought of the little one that he will refer his decisions to the standards of your opinion. Whenever that happy relation becomes established between parent and child, the problem of discipline becomes easy.

Try the scheme. Fall into the habit of briefly noticing children, say a word of cheer and compliment them on specific performance, picture to them certain definite types of practical behavior, and make it clear that you are watching them with confidence.

Such children will unconsciously set you and your opinion up as standards of secret decision and behavior. You need not limit your parental influence to children of your own household. It is one thing to be the father of a boy and another thing to be the father of a helpful idea, which influences the daily behavior of a boy.

Philosophical Phrasings

You cannot judge of a tree by its bark.

He preaches well by living well.

He who stings frightens away his ill.

Hear first and speak afterwards.

We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths; in feeling, not in figures on a dial. —Bailey.

You'll Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads—that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calcium powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. No blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a matter of dirt and dirt and dirt is the cause of them. The calcium powder and the water wash the blackheads away as they wash dirt out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

The Woman of the Future

WHAT EVERY WOMAN CAN KNOW

Now That Income Tax Returns Are Making

METHOD: Go to the revenue office. Ask for the return of your husband, or of any man in whom you are interested. You'll get it—the law says so. Then, with the ready reckoner, plus a copy of the Internal Revenue Bureau regulations for computing income taxes—the rates for incomes of different size and the allowed exemptions—you can figure out what WAS THE MAN'S INCOME LAST YEAR, on which he paid a tax to Uncle Sam.

And THEN you'll know—among other things—about your husband.

Whether he got a raise, and didn't tell you—

Whether business really was bad, as he said, or whether he's been holding out on you—

If he could have afforded the pearl necklace, or the new car, which he said was "too steep" for him—

If he told the truth when he vowed he couldn't pay a higher rent—

If he's saving money without your knowledge—

Whether he's justified in grumbling over the bills—or whether he ought to raise your allowance, and come out that fur coat—

Whether you can soak him for higher alimony and get away with it—

MOOREVER, you will know—if the man isn't your husband—whether he's doing as well as he says he is, or just pulling up a big bluff—

Whether his income is larger than he admits, and he can't afford to take the apartment you want, after you've married him—

If he's a better matrimonial chance, financially speaking, or Dick (a little patient investigation will disclose their financial status)—

If his salary is as large as yours—

If he can support you in the style to which you were accustomed—

If he's a tightwad!

Now, who says a paternal Government doesn't look after the interests of its female citizens?

But—HEAVEN HELP THE MEN!
Copyright, 1924.

SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON

By HELEN ROWLAND

LAST by the time a man has got the money to marry, he has generally lost the enthusiasm.

Most girls seem to think that a college education is merely in making a sorority, collecting fraternity pins and men.

It is amazing how much money a man who "marries the right girl" can find to squander on the other half.

Almost any man would be perfectly satisfied if he were a wife as durable, as useful, as responsive to his wishes, as easily moved about as a portable typewriter.

The hardest luck a woman can have is to "marry for the right man"—and then marry the wrong one.

Marriage is the point at which a man stops telling her beauty intoxicates him and begins telling her that her clothes and her morals are driving him to drink.

A man usually breaks the Ten Commandments, but he goes through life; but once a woman STARTS breaking, she smashes the whole lot at once.

When a New Yorker lives in the same apartment for years in succession he is known as an "old settler."

There still exists here and there the prehistoric "woman," who, if you offered her a seat in Congress, would want to know how it was upholstered.

Nowadays a girl sometimes has to use a pulmotor to get "breathes forth his love" for her.

DAILY CROSS WORD PUZZLE

Copyright, 1924—Simon & Schuster, Inc.

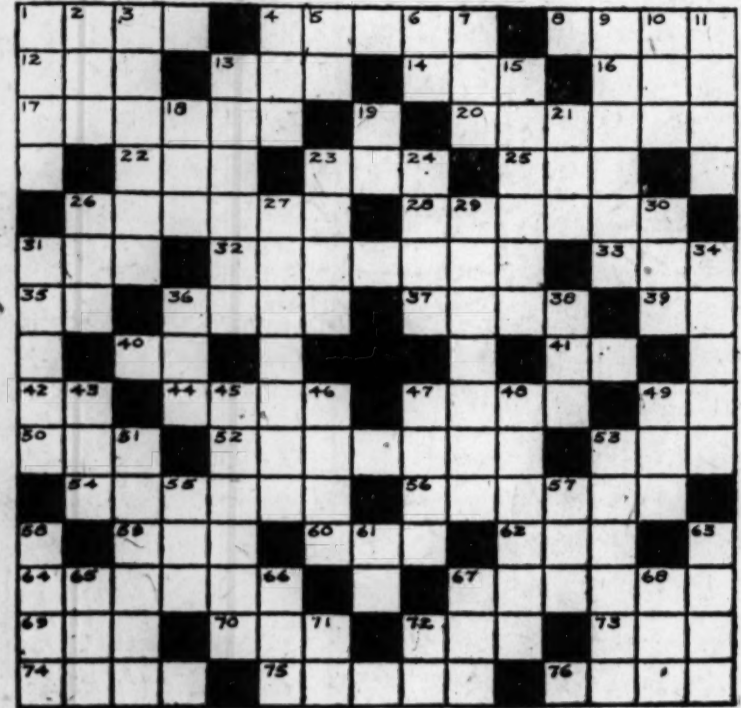

Each number in the puzzle indicates the position of the first letter of a word.

Each word reads from left to right (horizontal) or downward (vertical), according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock.

Each number in the white squares also refers to a definition in the accompanying table.

Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white space allotted to it.

Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

What Happened by the Old Log

No goose is eaten until caught; A truth that should be early taught.

NEARER and nearer to the shore swam the Geese in the pond of Paddy the beaver. One of them headed straight in where an old log lay close to the water. Behind that old log lay Reddy Fox. The Black Shadows were deep there. Reddy could peep around the end of the log and watch the Geese, but the Geese could not see him.

Peter Rabbit, hidden in a clump of ferns, could see Reddy Fox and could see the Geese. Peter had never felt worse in all his life. There was one of the children of his old friend, Honker the Goose, going ashore right where Reddy Fox was hiding, and there was nothing that he, Peter, could do about it. He didn't dare let Reddy Fox know that he was there.

As that Goose came out on the shore Peter closed his eyes. "I can't look," he kept saying over and over to himself. "I can't look. Something dreadful is going to happen, and I can't bear the thought of seeing it."

He kept his eyes closed for what seemed to him a long time, but which really was only for a few seconds. Then he opened them again. He opened them just in time to see Reddy Fox spring over that log straight at that Goose. Then things happened so fast that Peter was hardly sure what did happen. Reddy had jumped straight for the neck of that young Goose, but quick as he was that Goose was quicker. That long neck moved like a flash and Reddy missed it. Then that Goose struck quickly and hard with his bill. Reddy whirled to spring again.

Before he could move, a great wing struck him a terrible blow

Reddy wanted nothing now so much as to get away. He jumped this way and that, and snarled and snapped, but the Geese had him penned in. Finally Honker gave Reddy a blow that sent him into the water. It was very shallow. Thoroughly wet, frightened and with all the fight knocked out of him, Reddy scrambled to his feet and splashed along through the shallow water, while

FAIR ENOUGH.

WHAT Princeton did to Harvard
Is indeed a sorry tale;
But what Princeton did to Harvard,
Harvard hopes to do to Yale.

In a Name.

Harold Grange started in life with a moniker that is not usually connected with deeds of daring and football prowess. But his friends forthwith changed it to "Red" and he immediately began to tear through the opposition for runs of anywhere from 25 to 100 yards and make touchdowns so fast they had to get an adding machine to keep track of them.

See where they are putting out cross-word puzzles in the form of blocks probably to make it easier for the block-heads.

An Appreciation.

Col. Quantrell of Dyed-in-Wool Township, Shannon County, Mo., pays the following heartfelt if somewhat negative tribute to the President:

I DO not like thee, Cautious Cal, I never did and never shall; But this I know and know full well: You certainly can run like hell.

Bad Enough.

See where less than half the qualified voters cast their ballots in the last election. For which, we take it, the Democrats are duly grateful.

Now that La Follette has got Wisconsin, what's he going to do with it?

The man on the sandbox says Doc Nelson's Back-to-Bunceton movement has Napoleon's retreat from Moscow looking like a triumphal procession.

When forming his new cabinet the President will be ungrateful if he doesn't make the Literary Digest Secretary of Agriculture in acknowledgement of that straw vote.

And what'll he do for George Harvey. The Colonel still has a perfectly good pair of knee breeches left over from the Harding administration suitable for court purposes.

The Symphony Orchestra opened with a bang and will close with a "pop." Good work, boys, fiddle up.

According to reports of the attendance at the Giants-White Sox games in Paris the French take to baseball with the same enthusiasm that a Kentucky Colonel takes to water.

It seems that the Frenchman had trouble in distinguishing a ball from a strike in which they resemble some of the world's greatest umpires.

BORAH ADVOCATES SPECIAL SESSION OF NEW CONGRESS

Tells President Farm, Rail, Tax Relief and World Court Measures Should Be Given Attention.

HOLDS LONG DELAY IS UNWARRANTED

Asserts He Is Opposed to Proposal to "Read Out" of Party Republicans Who Joined La Follette.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. — An extra session of the new Congress soon after next March 4 was urged today by Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, who declared he thought farm and railroad measures, as well as the World Court proposal, and perhaps tax relief, should be taken up at that time.

He voiced his opinion after a call on President Coolidge. Administration officials close to the President indicated yesterday that he had no present plan for the calling of a special session.

Senator Borah believes that legislation in the way of general legislation will be accomplished at the coming short session, which is to be devoted largely to work on appropriations. He regards a delay until the regular meeting of the new Congress in December next year as unwarranted.

For World Court Action.

As a result of the death of Senator Lodge, Borah is in line for the chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee, which is charged with chief responsibility for action on the World Court proposal. He said today he had no specific plan for such action, but thought the question should be disposed of one way or another.

An opinion contrary to that of Borah was expressed by Representative Burton, Republican, Ohio, another White House caller, who said he saw no necessity for an extra session and believed that, in addition to the appropriation bills, such measures as are necessary should be passed at the short session.

Borah said he told the President he believed the Republican party should "legislate as close to the action returns as possible," and that reason, if it were possible, immediate steps should be taken even at the short session of Congress for enactment of farm relief legislation, revision of transportation laws and the development of reclamation projects.

World Speed Reclamation.

The President agreed with him. The Senator said that the report of the Fact Finding Commission on Reclamation should be adopted. This commission was appointed by the Interior Department and has suggested appropriations for a number of developments.

Borah held the farmer's difficulty was due to excessive taxation, the low purchasing power of the dollar, the lack of a foreign market, and transportation rates. He asserted the farmers were loaded down with $1,000,000,000 increased taxation and farm exports had fallen, notwithstanding reports that they were greater in value than in 1913, although they may have been greater in bulk. The question of inflation, he asserted, was one for executive influence on the Federal Reserve Board.

In connection with the extra session proposal, Borah said he believed the commission appointed to recommend farm relief measures would have ample time to report by next March 4.

Borah placed himself on record against efforts to "read out" of party Republicans who had associated themselves with the La Follette movement in the recent election.

He declared they "should be read in," adding, "The main question is whether La Follette wants to come into the party."

"He may not wish to come in," he said.

MRS. HARDING IS WORSE

By the Associated Press.
MARION, O., Nov. 12. — Mrs. Warren G. Harding, who is critical of all with kidney trouble, was reported as not so well in a bulletin issued this morning by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, her physician. The bulletin read: "Mrs. Harding had a very restless and painful night and is not so well this morning." Instead of being given to local newspaper men personally by Dr. Sawyer, this morning's bulletin was read over the telephone by a nurse. This was taken to indicate that Dr. Sawyer is remaining close to the bedside of his patient.
